Germany Proposes to United States
That International Business Conference be Held

CONTENTS OF MEMORANDUM

Regarded as Advocacy of Proposal
By Secretary Hughes to Europe
Last December

(By United Press)

Washington, March 28—Germany has officially suggested to the United States that an international business conference to be participated in by America be called for the purpose of settling the Ruhr and reparations problem.

This was contained in the memorandum recently laid before Secretary of State Hughes by the German government which set forth the complete position of Germany in the occupation of the Ruhr and indicating how far the Cuno government was willing to go in bringing about a settlement. The same document was presented to Great Britain.

The United Press herewith can reveal the nature and details of this presentation of Germany's case, the contents of which have been kept as a closely guarded secret.

The German suggestion for an international business conference was in the nature of the advocacy of the proposal by Secretary Hughes to Europe last December that the reparations questions be turned over to a commission of financial and economic experts, including American experts for a recommendation of a figure within Germany's capacity to pay.

The Hughes proposal was blocked by a rebuff from France. The memorandum of the Cuno government declares Germany is ready and willing to accept the Hughes plan, and elaborates on the proposal.

Should France and all the other nations concerned accept the proposal for such an international conference.

LOVE LETTERS FOUND

Paris, March 28—Hundreds of love letters were found today hidden away in the casket which Sarah Bernhardt had prepared for death thirty years ago.

Relatives of the actress in making the casket ready to contain her body came upon them. Many were from unknown worshippers.

(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Paris, March 28.—The body of Sarah Bernhardt was placed today in the remodeled rosewood coffin which she had held in readiness for death for thirty years.

The funeral service will begin at 8 a. m. tomorrow when the procession will accompany the body from the residence to the church of St. Francis de Sales where the beloved French artist worshipped.

The formal rites of the Catholic church will be read there and then, at 11 a. m., it is planned to conduct the funeral cortege to the famous burial ground Pere La Chaise where hundreds of France's most distinguished heroes lie. Later the body may be removed to Belle Isle where a vault will be prepared on the spot Bernhardt selected as a final resting place.

A hundred women, grieved at the death of their beloved actress rushed at police stationed at the door of her home this morning. They wanted the last chance to see her before the body was placed in the casket. Police were forced to refuse.

HIT ON HEAD BY RAIL TIE

Walter Thorpe, Big Four Section
Foreman, Is Severely Injured

Walter Thorpe, section foreman on the Big Four railroad, was severely injured Tuesday afternoon, while assisting in unloading ties from a box car about two miles south of the city along the Big Four railroad. Due to a misunderstanding of orders, the workmen in the car who were throwing the ties out, unloaded one of the heavy cross ties, while Mr. Thorpe was trying to get another tie away from the car, the tie striking him on the left side of his head and cutting a gash, two inches long. No stitches were taken to sew up the wound but it was causing him much pain today, and he was unable to work.

FATALLY WOUNDED IN BATTLE WITH POLICE

Harry Trusner Of Bedford Returns
Fire Of Officers When They Raid Alleged Rendezvous

DYNAMITE AND MASK FOUND

(By United Press)

Bedford, Ind., March 28.—Following battle with police, Harry Trusner is lying at the point of death today suffering from a bullet wound. Physicians said that the bullet penetrated Trusner's intestines eleven times and that one foot of the small intestines was removed in an effort to save his life.

Reports reaching here that a gang of five men had a rendezvous north of Bedford, caused the police to investigate. They found Trusner and "Skeeter" McBride, said to be brothers-in-law.

"Hands Up" commanded the officers. McBride complied but Trusner thrust one hand in his overcoat pocket, turned and ran. The police gave chase and fired one shot into the ground. At the shot Trusner turned and opened fire. In return fire the police wounded the man, but he escaped.

Later the police found and identified Trusner at a hospital where he had gone for treatment of the wounds. Search of the rendezvous revealed two sticks of dynamite and a mask.

EASTER MESSAGE IS DELIVERED TO CLUB

The Rev. Gibson Wilson Speaks To
Kiwanians And G. P. Bonney

100 PER CENT ATTENDANCE

The Rev. Gibson Wilson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, addressed the Kiwanis club at the regular weekly luncheon today at the Social club, delivering an Easter message built around the story of the crucifixion. The address was characterized by members of the club as one of the best ever given at a luncheon.

Gerald P. Bonney, singing evangelist who has been at this church in a series of pre-Easter meetings for the past ten days, sang a solo of his own composition, which was prepared by him especially for the Easter services next Sunday.

He explained that it was written during his stay in Rushville and members of the club regarded it as an extraordinary song and very appropriate to the occasion. Mrs. Bonney also joined her husband in singing a duet at the close of the meeting.

The meeting was marked by a one hundred per cent attendance of members. Amos Baxter presided in place of the president Dr. J. B. Kinsinger.

Other guests present were Edgar Thomas of Milroy, Clyde O. Mullin of Liberty, R. F. Beach of Cincinnati and Irl Ward of Rushville.

The Rev. Gibson Wilson Points Out
That Penalty of Such a Life is Death

COST OF REJECTION HEAVY

Special Preparations Are Made for Easter Services at First Presbyterian Church

The cost of living without Christ is heavy and the penalty is death, according to the Rev. Gibson Wilson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, in a sermon on "The Cost of Living Without Christ," Tuesday evening. The pastor took his text from James, 1:15, "Sin when it is finished bringeth forth death."

There will be services each night this week, with the exception of Saturday night. Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Bonney, singing evangelists, are delighting the people with their messages in song.

Sunday will be a full day at this church. The day begins with a sunrise prayer-meeting at six o'clock. Invitation is extended to all who wish to begin the day in this way. It is hoped that the attendance at Sunday school will pass all previous records.

At the morning services at 10:30, the sacrament of baptism will be administered, new members will be welcomed into the fellowship of the church, and the sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be celebrated. It is hoped that every member will be present.

In the evening there will be a meeting for young people at 6:30 and at 7:30 a great song service led by Mr. and Mrs. Bonney, with many special numbers.

The Rev. Mr. Wilson spoke in part last night as follows:

It is impossible to live in sin and not reap the fruit of your evil way. Whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap, is as true of life's deeds as it is of grain.

You have perhaps seen a great forest tree split asunder by another tree growing up within it. One day a bird dropped a seed in the crevice of that tree. It grew until it split the tree asunder.

The sin that you allow to stay in your life may be small but it will grow until it rends your character. You may think you are enjoying it now but the time of weeping is coming.

"A book of remembrance is kept." If sin is not put away and you take it to your death it will comfort you in eternity.

Wickedness may seem sweet now but it will be the gaul of bitterness

Attempts to Justify Practice of Fin-
ing Prohibition Law Violators
$50 and Costs

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., March 28—Mayor Roswell Johnson of Gary, one of the sixty two defendants in the Lake county booze conspiracy case, was about to take the stand in his own defense in federal court late today.

With the testimony of Johnson and Sheriff William Olds, the case of the defense will draw to a close. Indications were that the defense would rest by evening.

William Dunn, judge of the city court, a defendant, attempted to justify his practice of fining prohibition violators $50 and costs with no jail or prison sentence attached, while testifying during the morning.

Dunn said it was the general understanding around Gary that a $50 fine would be the penalty for first conviction.

Testimony of witnesses to the effect that they paid the amounts of their fines to lawyers and did not appear personally in court was explained by Dunn by saying that he always thought the defendants were in the room, when lawyers entered pleas of guilty for them. He said he believed now after hearing the evi-

TO GO TO BOTTOM OF SUGAR MUDDLE

President Harding is Determined to Ascertain Who is Responsible for

TO ENLIST TWO AGENCIES

Attorney General Daugherty and Secretary of Commerce Hoover
to Probe Situation

By LAWRENCE MARTIN
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

St. Augustine, Fla., March 28—President Harding is determined to go to the bottom of the sugar situation and ascertain definitely who or what is responsible for the manipulation in prices of this national necessity.

A complete government investigation—not only from the tariff angle as demanded in a letter the president has forwarded to the tariff commission—is in prospect, it was learned today.

Attorney General Daugherty will be asked to enlist the aid of the department of justice while Secretary of Commerce Hoover will probe the commercial end, according to present plans.

A conference between Daugherty and the president has been arranged for today and means of ascertaining the truth in the situation which is causing Mr. Harding much alarm will be discussed.

Mr. Harding has announced the sending of a letter to the tariff commission demanding that it attempt to learn how far the high Republican tariff goes toward influencing prices. The president feels that this tariff is not responsible and he is anxious to clear the name of the administration from accusations which have been made in some quarters.

But this is only a preliminary step in the general government inquiry.

The department of justice has full authority to go into the price situation and do things which the commerce department under Secretary Hoover could not have done. Hoover has no power to summon witnesses or command that information concerning price manipulations be given. Daugherty has.

Mr. Harding is very much aroused. The reports and counter reports which have been bandied about were brought to his attention by A. D. Lasker, chairman of the shipping board and a personal adviser of the chief executive.

JURY FINDS FOR THE DEFENSE ON CLAIM

Mrs. Minnie M'Keeman Loses In Attempt To Collect $1,698 For Services Rendered

PITMAN CASE ON THURSDAY

Minnie Means McKeeman, plaintiff in a suit against the estate of Milton S. Huntington, a deceased veterinarian of New Palestine, lost her case in the circuit court here, when the jury returned a verdict this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock for the defense.

Mrs. McKeeman demanded $1,698 judgement for services rendered the deceased during his life time and for which she did not have sufficient proof to convince the jury that she had loaned the deceased money. The case originated in the Hancock circuit court, and was sent here on a change of venue.

Hearing of the evidence required Monday and Tuesday and arguments started this morning. The case was given over to the jury at 12:30 for deliberation on a verdict.

The jury will be used again Thursday, when the case of the state against Ernest Pitman will be called for trial. Pitman is charged with larceny, being accused of stealing hides from the firm of Oneal Brothers in this city, and upon which he has entered a plea of not guilty.

Rushville Baker Comes to Rescue of Stranded German and His Three Children

Native of Germany, Changing Trains
in Rushville Today, Unable to Make Anyone Understand Him
Until Joe Doll is Called as Interpreter. Enroute to Morristown to Take Job in Elevator Owned by
His Uncle

A native of Germany and his four children, unable to speak a word of English, attracted considerable curiosity here this morning at two railway stations, when they stopped off here while enroute to Morristown, coming directly from Ellis Island where they were admitted to this country from Germany.

Their railroad tickets were purchased through from Ellis Island to Morristown, and they arrived here this morning over the southbound Big Four train at eight o'clock, and their tickets called for the C. I. & W. railroad from Rushville to Morristown in order to complete the last lap of their long trip.

Being unable to speak a word of English made it a great handicap for them, and they were finally directed to the C. I. & W. station. L. C. Snodgrass, passenger agent, confronted a great problem in trying to explain to the strangers that the only train stopping at Morristown would not reach here until six o'clock tonight, and as a matter of fact, he couldn't make them understand.

The agent then attempted to tell them about the traction line, but he might as well as talked to a brick wall because they still couldn't understand.

Finally Mr. Snodgrass hit upon a happy idea. He called Joe Doll, a baker at the Weakley bakery shop, near the station, and Mr. Doll carried on the needed conversation with the German, and learned that he was going to Morristown to take employment at a grain elevator owned by his uncle.

The German stated that his wife was ready to make the voyage with them, but took sick a few hours before sailing time, and was left back home, and will come to this country later. The father was accompanied by a son, and 3 daughters.

They were dressed neatly, and the

George R. Dale Of Muncie Perfects Appeal To Supreme Court

(By United Press)
Indianapolis, Ind., March 28.—Release of George R. Dale, Muncie editor now serving a ninety day sentence on state penal farm for contempt of court was ordered today by the supreme court following approval of a $1,000 appeal bond signed by three Delaware county free holders.

Mrs. Dale accompanied by Former Judge James Moran, of Portland, her attorney, completed the appeal today at the state house and Mrs. Dale left for the penitentiary to obtain her husband's release.

Dale was fined $500 and sentenced for contempt by Judge Derth at Muncie, following publication of an article declaring Judge Derth and others prosecuting a certain case, were members of the Ku Klux Klan.

DENIED HUSBAND'S CHARGE

Mrs. Wm. S. Hart Says She Is Not Responsible For Accusation

Los Angeles, Calif., March 28.—Mrs. Wm. S. Hart today denied charges made by her husband "Bill" Hart, famous two-gun movie star, that she was responsible for accusations connecting his name with that of a Boston school teacher. Hart, in reply to insinuations yesterday that he was the father of this teacher's illegitimate child, and that he was paying for the child's support, declared his wife, who is separated from him, responsible for the report.

Mrs. Hart, who is suing for divorce, said she would not mention the Boston charges in her suit.

"What Mr. Hart did before I married him is no concern of mine. This new development has no bearing on our trouble," she said.

JOHNSON TO TAKE STAND IN DEFENSE

dence that he might have been imposed upon.

"Do you know how it was that attorneys bargained with their clients in advances for fees and told them what the fines and costs would be?" asked district Attorney Homer Elliott on cross examination.

"The fact that I imposed a minimum fine and suspended the sentence on the first offense may have commercialized the practice," Dunn said.

Dunn entered a general denial of all charges against them, denying that he was present in the police station when Phillip Ukman, star government witness was arrested. Ukman had told a story of being arrested without charge and of being beaten into insensibility in the presence of defense officials when he refused to sign a statement incriminating himself and government dry agents in a plot to blackmail prohibition violators with forged government search warrants.

Swinging into final stages of the Gary liquor conspiracy trial in federal court here, defense attorneys unlimbered their heavy artillery today to impeach the government's evidence against defendant officials and others.

Some of the defendants testifying in their own defense have hurled boomerangs and their lawyers were trying to dress the wounds their case may have suffered in the eyes of the jury.

The government scored one of its strongest points against Mayor Roswell Johnson of Gary in cross examination of John Bennett, treasurer of the republican city committee of Gary, who is named in the indictment charging a conspiracy to dispose of confiscated whiskey illegally and protect bootleggers for payment.

District Attorney Homer Elliott drew an admission from Bennett that an "emergency fund" not listed in the committee's books existed for unlawful use.

"When we sent men out to do certain work in the precincts we couldn't very well make a report on it," Bennett testified in reply to a question. He admitted that part of this fund was a $500 contribution from Gaspari Monti, murdered king of Gary's little Italy who was to have been the government's star witness.

Blaz Lucas, Gary lawyer whose name has figured more prominently in the case than any other defendant, was star witness for the defense. He put more pep into the trial than has been shown since the defense opened last Thursday. Without hesitation, Lucas replied to all questions and even corrected his own attorney and District Attorney Elliott on some details.

Lucas denied all charges that he had split large fees with City Judge William Dunn Prosecutor Dwight Kinder or anyone else. He admitted that on some occasions he had told defendants charged with violating prohibition what their fines would be before the case was tried and had taken money for the fine before the hearing.

party have pointed out editorials in many newspapers indirectly attacking the administration and directly blaming the high Republican tariff. In seeking vindication in an investigation, Mr. Harding realizes the importance of preventing Democrats from making political propaganda out of the situation, it was said.

Mr. Harding likewise realizes that a mere announcement that the high tariff is not responsible for the high sugar price will not satisfy the public. It is recalled that the sugar situation of 1919 caused Mr. Wilson much trouble and with Mr. Harding's proposed western campaign tour in prospect he desires to clear up the existing situation with the utmost celerity.

GOOD SEED PROFITABLE

J. O. Pattie Raised 300 Bus. Potatoes Off 1 And Three-Fourths Acres

Lafayette, Ind., March 28.—Good seed stock, proved by experience to be a profitable investment for J. A. Pattie, a Spencer county farmer as he secured 340 bushels of potatoes from 13-4, acres, according to a letter to Purdue university. The highest yield was 250 bushels per acre, but on the 13-4 acre tract planted at different times a total of 340 bushels of real potatoes were harvested. Certified seed, which comes with a tag of inspection on every bag, guaranteeing it to be true to variety and comparatively free from disease, is the first big factor toward a successful potato patch, Purdue contends.

Deaf Child Hears Music That Comes Through Air By Radio

Girl in State School For Deaf Able to Distinguish Between Strains of Dance Orchestra and Other Sounds. Other Deaf Pupils Also Recognize Music.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 28.—Isabel Schabel, a deaf child heard music coming through the air by radio last night.

The girl's face lighted up as strains of a dance orchestra penetrated her ears that had been useless since she was an infant. Her feet started beating time with the music.

Instructors, pupils and visitors at the state school for deaf where Isabel is a pupil, crowded around her. She had been considered totally deaf.

Then the music stopped and an announcer started talking, Isabel signalled she could hear nothing. When the receivers were first clamped, on her head, the instrument was "tuned in" on a Detroit dance orchestra. Isabel's face did not change expression. Then came the louder strains of an Indianapolis orchestra and the girl's joy was reflected in her smile.

A number of students considered deaf could distinguish between music and speaking. Some could not even hear the music.

Leon Heinrich, of South Bend, an advanced pupil, put the receivers to his ears. His face was a study. Then he signalled:

"I can hear something like a street car."

But instructors said the vibrations of the receivers and of a street car probably were the same and the boy was confused. Later, however, when an Indianapolis station was broadcasting he accurately and repeatedly distinguished between music and talking.

Gladys Heavenridge of Muncie, listed as totally deaf, insisted she could detect sound. Julia Gully of Winchester could distinguish accurately between music and speaking.

Some of the boys heard so well they were loathe to relinquish the receivers. They were boys who had partial hearing but could not hear sufficiently to go to ordinary schools.

Howard Paust of Richmond, deaf since he was a year old, heard when the Indianapolis station came in, but could not hear stations farther away. Helen Skelton of Terre Haute, deaf since she was a baby, insisted she could detect sound. Lola Atwood of Vincennes could feel vibrations but did not think she was hearing.

Dorothy Jones of Anderson and Walter Brady of Muncie did not respond. Some of the instructors who have no hearing said they could detect nothing.

PRE-EASTER WEEK EVENTS

Special Meetings Being Held by Glenwood Christian Church

The Glenwood Christian church, which is observing Pre-Easter week of prayer services, will meet Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. M. A. Kendall, and Mrs. Greenup Thompson will be the leader. The services Tuesday were held at the home of Mrs. Albert Siekling, with Mrs. Thomas Richardson as leader.

On Sunday, Sunrise prayer meeting will be held at the church at 5:30 o'clock, with T. G. Richardson as the leader. Bible School will be held at 9:30, followed by an Easter program by the young people of the church, and sponsored by Mrs. Leslie Hinchman and Mrs. Dan Geise.

Hartford City —Nearly 1,000 children were examined by Lilah Curry, county health nurse, during the past year. County council didn't appropriate money to continue the work.

Stable manure is growing scarcer and scarcer, and more and more expensive. Save your leaves and vegetable refuse for a compost heap this spring. This compost with commercial fertilizers has to take the place of stable manure.

Bone meal is good fertilizer for everything. Always have some of it handy.

Buy enough seeds the first time so you won't need to wait when you are ready to plant. Get staples by the ounce and half ounce.

Did you know that tomatoes have two kinds of leaves? One is fine cut. The other is "potato" leaved. The potato leaved kind is harder than the other kind, and stands dry weather better.

Celery cabbage, or Pe Tsai, doesn't smell like cabbage when it is cooked. The reason is easy; it isn't cabbage, but a mustard. If you haven't grown Pe Tsai or Wong Bok you have missed something. Nothing better for a fall salad, as delicate as lettuce and better flavored, and it always heads, if you try. It is best eaten raw, but very good when cooked.

The government has come to the rescue of asparagus growers with a rustproof "grass." If you are starting an asparagus patch try the new Washington variety. It has the government O. K. for flavor, size and growth.

Soak your beet seeds over night, if it is a dry spring.

Save celery tops and dry them for soup and stew flavor. They give more flavor dry than they do fresh when cooked.

Put this in your note book: If mature heads of cabbage start to split this summer pull them enough to loosen the roots in the soil without breaking them.

INEXPRESSIBLE PEACE:—
The peace of God which passeth all understanding, shall keep your hearts and minds through Jesus Christ.—Phil. 4:7.

A State Institution

Some objection to the proposed campaign for funds to help erect and equip the James Whitcomb Riley Hospital for children has been heard, on the score that the hospital would not be a state institution, but would be used almost exclusively by Indianapolis on account of it being located there. Some persons have been inclined to the belief that Indianapolis children would be given preference and that there would be little chance for children in other parts of the state ever being admitted for surgical operations or treatment.

Those familiar with the facts, have attempted to refute this idea wherever they find it, because it is far from the truth. The Riley hospital will be managed exactly as Robert W. Long hospital has been managed—by the board of trustees of Indiana university.

The state university trustees are men coming from all parts of Indiana. Only one of them, James W.
Fessler, lives in Indianapolis. It was he who, in an address here Tuesday evening, March 20, set out that the hospital would be for the benefit of the whole state.

If there is still doubt in the minds of those who object to the hospital on the theory that it will not be a state-wide institution, they need only to consult the record at the Long hospital.

Since June, 1914, when the Long hospital was opened, 278 Rush county residents, both children and grown people, have received treatment in the hospital and there are now 348 persons on the Long hospital waiting list. They represent sixty-seven counties and thirteen of those seeking admission to the hospital are from Rush county.

Summing up his speech, Mr. Fes-ler said: "You will see by this that the Long hospital is not an Indianapolis institution, but truly a state hospital, controlled by the board of trustees of Indiana university, and the Riley hospital will be conducted along similar lines, only on a larger scale."

This should be evidence enough that every county in Indiana will have an equal opportunity in gaining admission to the hospital for patients, who may be sent by a physician or through the circuit or juvenile court. They will be admitted in the order that application for admission is made and the fear that favoritism will be shown Indianapolis children is groundless.

This can be no excuse for giving to the Riley hospital campaign because it is not a legitimate one.

Titles Are Less Valuable

A few years ago American hei-resses were crazy to marry foreigners with titles. Princesses and dukes were prime favorites, but any old bird with a "handle" was acceptable. A title was a title, regardless of the personality of the man who owned it.

The case of the Duke of Marlborough is an example. The duke married Consuela Vanderbilt, and was shrewd enough to have $125,000 of the Vanderbilt money settled upon him.

The duke was so rotten Consuela

had to divorce him, but she couldn't divorce the $125,000 a year. That sticks to the duke for life.

Today American heiresses are not so keen after titles—not because our crop of heiresses is acquiring more sense, but simply for the reason that titles of nobility are becoming discredited articles and are no longer prized by women who have the money with which to purchase them.

But it is interesting to know that millions of dollars in good American gold are crossing the Atlantic every year to satisfy the vanity of women who have places where brains ought to have been.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY

From The Daily Republican
Saturday, March 28, 1908
It seems as if every Republican in Rush county intends to attend the Republican State convention at Indianapolis next Wednesday and Thursday or both. It is the common salutation on the streets.

Owne Bush, who first came into prominence as a good baseball prospect on the old Rushville team, and who signed with Indianapolis this season, is making a creditable showing in the practice games.

Prof. J. H. Scholl was elected vice-president of the grammar section of the State Teachers' association at Indianapolis Friday. The office is fitting recognition of Superintendent Scholl's untiring efforts in educational work. He has been an active worker in the state association for years.

The office of the city water and light plant, which has been located at the city clerk's office at the court house for a number of months, will be moved to the water and light plant on April 1.

J. T. Houser's delivery horse cut up some and tore up some yesterday afternoon. The driver, W. H.
Arnold, was thrown out on his head, but escaped injury; the wagon was badly damaged; and the cause of it all, the horse, escaped without a scratch.

Walter Frazee, who is a student at the Lexington Bible college, is the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs.
John H. Frazee in North Harrison street.

George Moore, Jr., left today for Danville, Ind., where he will enter school.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Hall celebrated an elaborate style their china wedding anniversary last night at their home on the Powers farm, north of town.
More than seventy guests were entertained. Mr. and Mrs. Hall were the recipients of many pretty and valuable china presents. Dainty refreshments of cream, cake and coffee were served. A. P. Wagoner's orchestra furnished music during the evening.

The fire department is getting the new horse, recently purchased, fairly well broke into the work and it is thought he will prove an excellent horse for the place.

Lincoln Giffin will have charge of the music and will be "fulback" in the big football Bible school contest at the Main Street Christian church. W. A. Stockinger and Cecil Clark will be referees.

The Hodge - Podge
By a Paragapher with a Soul

The advice of Safety Sam to small children not to walk diagonally across the street applies to jay walkers of all ages.

Sarah Bernhardt died a bankrupt, indicating that fame is not always kind to the children of its own making.

One would not imagine that Bill Hart, rough man of the plains, would admire a school teacher from classic Boston.

When there is nothing left for persons accused of violating the law, they can always deny it in the newspapers.

Volunteer sleuths should remember that badges are not for display and that handcuffs are to be used only in cases of dire necessity.

The killjoy generally kills himself first, which is one of the things we have to be thankful.

Stuttering is a great aid to the person who finds it necessary to invent an excuse.

MUNICIPAL SCALES

Warsaw, Ind., March 28.—The decision of the city council to establish a municipal scales has brought charges to the effect that the body is planning the passage of an ordinance that would require the weighing of all coal and certain other commodities sold here and has been met with a denial by Mayor John A. Sloane, and the members of council coal dealers, in particular have taken offense, declaring that the establishment of the city scales was directed at them and this also was denied by the councilmen. The scales will be operated by C. A.
Butler on a per cent basis.

Columbus—Three pointer dogs entered in the Cincinnati show by C. C. Herron, of Hope, were declared the winners in their class.

RADIO FANS ASKED TO HEED "SAFETY FIRST"

Indianapolis, Ind., March 28—Safety engineers who have made a study of radio hazards agree that while any child may be able to operate a radio outfit, it takes an experienced electrician to install one free from fire and other hazards.
Many accidents have been prevented by the prompt action of electric power companies, which made surveys of their properties, eliminated aerials in close proximity to live lines and wage warnings and information to the public.

All wiring should be approved by some competent authority, especially when connections are made to the ordinary electric light service.
In some cases special wiring is required as the installation of a rec-tifier and battery might overload the circuit. Equipment should always be properly located. A place easily accessible to small children is no place for a storage battery, with its acids, fumes and possible fire hazard. A wave of radio installations has swept the country and many accidents have resulted because the advice of an electrician was not asked.

Following is a list of radio
"don'ts":

Never pick up a wire lying on the ground or dangling from a pole. It might be "alive." Report fallen wires immediately to the police or power company. Never string wireless aerials over or under any other wires. Never attach radio aerials or anything to poles carrying wires of any sort.
Always attach aerials to substantial supports so located that if either the support or aerial breaks it can not come in contact with other wires. It is quite practical to operate a radio set with an indoor aerial. Do not use kite aerials. Do not attach antennae to chimneys.
Someone might be down below when the bricks start falling.

SULPHUR CLEARS
A PIMPLY SKIN

Apply Sulphur As Told When Your Skin Breaks Out

Any breaking out of the skin on face, neck, arms or body is overcome quickest by applying Menth-o-Sulphur. The pimples seem to dry right up and go away, declares a noted skin specialist.

Nothing has ever been found to take the place of sulphur as a pimple remover. It is harmless and inexpensive. Just ask any druggist for a small jar of Rowles Menth-o-Sulphur and use it like cold cream.

U. S. TENNIS STAR SEEKS DAVIS CUP

Vincent Richards Will Journey To England To Compete With Many Tennis Champions

AMERICAN COLOPS TO FLY

This Country Will Be Represented
In Tennis, The Same As It Was
In Golf Tourney

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)
New York, March 28.—American colors were spread all over the place when the out-door season had its real opening in England last week.
The display of those same colors should appear almost in the same profusion as the season progresses.

With the exception of the British amateur golf championship, the American entries in all of the other European classics border on the cinch class. It does not follow that the American amateur golfers going in quest of the British title are of inferior ability, but the team is not representative of the real power of the amateur game in this country.

Vincent Richards announced some time ago that he had decided to go after the British tennis championship at Wimbledon and Vinnie stands a mighty fine chance to win the title that was won twice by "Big Bill" Tilden.

Richards is the third among the tennis players of this country but there are no players on the other side who can compare with Tilden or Bill Johnston, the only ones who rank above the Fordham star.

If the Australians carry out their plan to send a team of youngsters after the Davis cup, Gerald Patterson, the present Wimbledon champion, will not be able to defend his title; and that removes the biggest obstacle Richards would have to face.

Another formidable contender was also removed from competition when Manuel Alonzo, the brilliant Spanish player, came to this country to establish himself in business. With his brother, he is going to make Philadelphia his home and will not compete in the Wimbledon tournament or in the Davis cup matches.

France has several good young players, but they lack the experience of the American boy and none of the veteran players have anything on him.

Forced to play against Mlle. Lenglen, who seems to be in the best form of her career, Miss Leslie Baneroff, the Boston girl, who is now in England, can hardly hope to win the women's championship at Wimbledon; she has a fine chance to finish second, and that is all any American can aspire for at the present time with the French girl at the peak of her game.

The American delegation of professors headed by Walter Hagen Gene Sarazen, Jim Barnes and Joe Hutchinson makes it look as though there will be a battle royal among the Americans for the British open cup.

BLIND PLAY BASKETBALL IN NEBRASKA

By I. I. FEMRITE
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Lincoln, Nebr., March 17.—The most remarkable basket ball teams in existence, probably the only ones of their kind in the world, may be found at the Pittsburgh Nebraska institute for the blind.

This institute has actually developed among its members rival quintets, and in spite of their handicap, they play a game which causes one to marvel at their speed and accuracy.

Basketball for the blind is, of course, not the ordinary cage game, but is modified to some extent. The greatest obstacle in the way of the sightless is accurate basket shooting. However, this difficulty has been met by placing eight rubber mats on the floor, four in the vicinity of each basket. These serve as landmarks, as they can be easily felt with the feet, from which the players try for the goals.

They train to shoot from these spots and acquire the knack of eag-ing the sphere with ease. The foul line is marked with a strip of linoleum pasted to the floor at the regular seventeen foot distance, and may thus be discerned by touching with the foot.

Probably the greatest problem of all for the boys is passing the ball.
In this game, where speed counts, teams whose members have all their senses have great difficulty sometimes in knowing where their colleagues are. The institute teams, however, seem to have found an extraordinary faculty of feeling out just where the various players are located. A system of signaling by stamping with their feet has been invented and helps the players in communicating with their teammates

when it comforts you in the day of judgment. Common sense should show us the folly of living in sin. A few years ago the police of New York City were on the track of some counterfeiters and to escape being captured, they threw their stamps and dies into the sea. Only a year later while dredging for oysters, the stamps were brought up and the men arrested. Even the sea gave up the evidence of guilt committed to it.

Another cost of living without Christ is death. "Sin when it is finished bringeth forth death." It brings forth physical death. Its early promises may be fascinating but its stages are always progressive downward. Just watch the accounts in the papers and see how sin is destroying every worthy ambition and taking the lives of many as its price which it demands.

It also brings spiritual death. The soul is benumbed with sin, and we refuse to hear the call of the divine within.

Further cost of living without Christ is that we will be rejected of him in the day of judgment. Sin rejects Jesus here and the cost is that he rejects us hereafter. The question is not "What shall I do then with Jesus?" but what shall I do without him.

Final separation is another price we pay for rejecting him. A distinct line of separation is going on between the good and the bad. On the one side is God with truth, right and heaven on his side. On the other side is Satan with false, wrong and hell.
This grouping is ever going on in men's lives.

Paul puts the cost of rejecting Christ in this way, "Whose end is destruction," perdition. Worldliness may prosper for a while but its end is destruction, and the sad part about it is that so often it does not stop with the individual but leads whole families into its evil consequences.

Apparent escape from evil may fill one with a sense of security but doom comes at last. The people who lived near Mt. Pelee had often been warned of the dangers. There was likely to be an eruption of the volcano at any time. But they became calloused as to their dangers and when the eruption did come the entire city of St. Pierre was buried under the lava and only sixteen lives were saved. They failed to give heed to the warnings until it was too late. Must all that has been done for you in heaven be in vain? Must ev-

PRESIDENT IS IMPROVING

Doubles Exercise And Will Now Play
36 Holes Of Golf A Day

St. Augustine, Fla., March 28.—
Improvement in the condition of President Harding is observed each day of his Florida vacation trip.

ton his face was lined with little wrinkles, caused by the strain of official duties and the strenuous activities in the closing days of a none too sympathetic congress. The president was good for only 18 holes of golf then.

Up to this week the president has continued with only 18 holes; but yesterday he doubled his ration of exercise and now will play 36 holes each day whenever possible. This necessitates spending practically an entire day at the links.

English Sports Worried

(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, March 28.—England is alarmed over the prospect of having Jimmy Wilde, the Empire's only champion, knocked over by Pancho Villa, the little coffee-colored Philipino.

From the walls being printed in the London press it would seem that the superiority of the American is so firmly established that it would be only a painful ceremony to go through with transferring the crown.

That Wilde should have decided to risk his great reputation after more than two year's abstention from boxing and at a period of his boxing career when it has been made plain that he is not the Wilde of old, invincible at his own weight and at anything up to a stone above it, will be a cause of regret to his thousands of admirers," Sporting Life (London) says.

"He has been urged again and again to retire since his defeat by Pete Herman. True, it was no disgrace to be beaten by such a man, for Wilde was trying to give away
a stone to the best bantamweight we have seen in this country for a long stretch of years. It was evident in that contest that Wilde was not the man we used to know.

"Still, boxing is a business and money, and Wilde has been tempted by an American offer which will put into his bank a small fortune."

Wilde isn't risking his great reputation by fighting now. He's adding to it by not following the example of American champions in picking up setups. Wilde's reputation now consists in what he was, not what he is,
and if he is knocked out or loses to Villa, it will not detract one bit from what he was.

More or less casually, the London papers also announced a few days ago that Harry Wills was going to leave the United States for Europe next month and that he had been engaged to do battle with that other colored battler, Battling Siki.

Janet Dean Complimented For Solo Work With I. U. Orchestra

Miss Janet Dean, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. D. H. Dean of this city, and a student at Indiana University, Bloomington, received favorable comment for her violin solo part, in which she appeared recently with the University orchestra at a recital The Daily Student, the college newspaper, relates the following, which will be of interest to Miss Dean's friends in this city:

Dr. Paul Herbert Kleeman and Janet Dean, '24, were the soloists at the convocation recital by the university orchestra yesterday. Dr. Kleeman captivated the audience with his "Vision Fugitive" aria from Massenet's "Herodiade." His voice is a rich baritone, his enunciation is clear and his singing is expressive. But though he has "arrived" he has by no means reached the full maturity of his powers. Mr. Geiger was at the piano.

Dr. Kleeman, who is a pupil of Mr. Geiger and who has appeared here twice before, availed himself of a brief vacation from the stage to visit his teacher and sing at the convocation.

Miss Dean played the "Legende by Wieniawski," with orchestra accompaniment. Despite her timidity she played with cool comprehension and without a break. She has technical equipment and good understanding and needs only to let herself go to take an assured place among the campus soloists—a not mean company.

The orchestra under Dean Merrill played the opening and closing numbers. The first number, the prelude to the third act of "Lohengrin" with the bridal chorus, was one of the best performances the orchestra has ever given. The bridal chorus was at least cleansed of the accretions and sophistications which too great popularity has fastened upon it, and was restored to its pristine festival purity.

Czibulka's "Ball Scenes" waltzes were unmistakably "weanersch" (Viennese) in melody and in the refinement that goes with the strings. Special mention must be made of the solo passages in both orchestra numbers. The basson solo work, in the Wagner number, played by Elizabeth Gwatkin, '24, is less outstanding, but even so, accounted in good part for the success of the selection.

Booneville—Harold Kelly and Albert VanWinkle have started a hike to Chicago and New York, as a result of a wager. They must be back by August to win.

DEMURRER BEING PREPARED

To Be Filed To Charges Of S. F. Spohn, Fighting For Tax Exemption

Indianapolis, Ind., March 28.—Demurrer to charges of Samuel F. Spohn, Goshen, now fighting for tax exemption in the Elkhart circuit court because his property is occupied by a National Guard unit, is being prepared by the state board of tax commissioners and will be filed soon, Wm. A. Hough, commissioner said today.

The property, privately owned, is leased to the state for five years and the owner is seeking an injunction to restrain the county auditor and treasurer either from placing the property on the tax duplicates or from forcing payment by sale.

The demurrer will be on the grounds that the property is a privately owned investment, not open for exemption under existing statutes.

CROSS TO MANY IS STUMBLING BLOCK

day night "Methodist Sam" Polovina will speak. He spoke at the church a few weeks ago and told a very interesting story of his life. He has appeared at different churches in the county and has drawn large crowds each time he spoke. It is expected that the church will be filled at this service.

The pastor took his text at Tuesday evening's service from Gal. 5:11, "The Offense of the Cross" and in part said:

"Strange is it not that the cross, which to us is the way to peace and joy, should to any one be an offense and a stumbling block? But such it was to many in Paul's day and such it is to many in our own time.

"It was an offense to the Jews because it shattered their dreams of temporal power. If for years you had been building air castles of future wealth, liberty and fame and one day that dispenser of destiny, the telegraph messenger boy, had given you a yellow slip of paper that tumbled your dreams into dust, you would have a sense of bitter disappointment. Such was the message of the cross to the Jews. They expected the Messiah to restore the Kingdom to Israel. They believed that he would place the sceptre of Judah above the eagles of Rome. Instead, he was seized by Roman hands, placed on a Roman cross pierced by Roman nails and a Roman spear and crucified by Roman soldiers. No wonder the cross was destroyed, their hopes became a stumbling block and an offense.

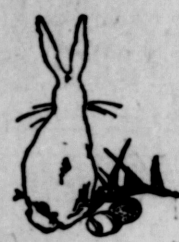

"It was a stumbling block because the cross, now a badge of honor, was then a sign of crime and of disgrace. It was an offense because it swept away the national distinction which had been theirs. They believed themselves a chosen nation, a peculiar people, favored of the Lord above all others. On the cross Christ abolished this distinction between Jew and Gentile, for he died for all men. Henceforth there should be neither Jew nor Greek, for Christ should be all and in all.

"The Cross is an offense today because it shatters the world's dreams of selfish pleasure. If I should ask you to write in one word, the meaning of the cross, it would be others. If I should ask you to write one word describing many earthly dreams, it would be self. Many men seek wealth, position, power that they may contribute to their selfish pleasures.

"God does not desire to limit our happiness, rather to increase it including others. Give the cross the right place and there will ever be more of laughter than of tears, more of sunshine than of shadow, more of pleasure than of pain. He is the happiest man who observes the laws of growth and develops his own powers to the fullest in unselfish service of others.

"The Cross is an offense to man because it rebukes his self righteousness. Pride revolts at the thought of dependence for salvation upon another. It does not please the natural heart. It was not designed to please men and to save men. Give self the right of way and Christianity would soon be doomed.

"The cross is self sacrifice at its highest. It rebukes in man, which is self assertion. It convicts man of moral perversity. It reveals that which should be the aim, the purpose, the power of every true life—the highest good for all others. Without the cross, the highest world would be impossible. The cross reveals the inner life of God and makes possible the higher life of man. God and man meet in the cross. It reaches to the very heights of Heaven and descends to the lowest depth of earth, that the lowest of earth may gain the height of heaven."

Conceded by experts to be one of the most thrilling scenes ever flung upon a screen, in which a veteran fire horse plunges through a seething wall of flame, with a rider on its back, the vividly dramatic climax in the great fireman's melodrama "The Third Alarm" is one of the thrilling scenes to be seen to-day and Thursday at the Princess Theatre, where the production is paying a tribute to the fire-fighters of this community and others throughout the land.

The horse which takes part in this stirring episode is none other than "Bullet," oldest horse of the fire department of the City of Los Angeles, from which he was borrowed especially for this production by Mr. Emory Johnson, the producer.

"Bullet" has been to more than a thousand fires in his day. He is now more than twenty years old and has been retired and pensioned on an old farm for almost five years. When he was required by the script of "The Third Alarm" to plunge through a wave of flames with a rider on his back—in the person of Ralph Lewis—and then haul and tug with a rope about his neck until he pulled a huge safe out of the blazing ruins and liberated a girl and a boy, he went right about his job—and no questions asked.

Western At Mystic Today

A western thriller of tense interest comes to the Mystic Theatre to-day when William Fox presents Dustin Farnum in his latest production "Three Who Paid." The story is from the pen of George Owen Baxter, scenario by Joseph Franklin

Poland and directed by Colin Campbell.

Dustin Farnum, one of the most popular stars, rank foremost for his portrayal of western roles. His splendid physique, his infectious smile and virile robustness have endeared him to the public. And he does not disappoint in "THREE WHO PAID."

There are dealings of the cards in this picture, and fate decrees that three must pay for an underhand deed. Dustin, firm sponsor of Justice, dominates the rapid story development. Softening the whole is the whimsical presence of little Bessie Love, the star's leading lady. Exquisite scenery forms a lovely background for the vivid action that sweeps this picture to a charming end, following a pell mell rush of action that sends the red mounting in hot waves to your cheeks.

The cast includes besides Mr. Farnum and his leading lady, Bessie Love, Frank Campeau, Fred Kohler, Robert Daly, William Conklin and Robert Agnew.

Ligonier —Freid Park, tourists' camp is to be improved and a night watchman provided for the coming season.

Sound Testimonial Evidence showing the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound over the ills of women is constantly being published in this paper. The strongest recommendation any article can have is that borne by the persons who use it. Once ill with ailments that caused suffering and despair, but now restored to the joys of health, from a grateful heart multitudes of women write letters of appreciation to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., of Lynn, Mass. Such evidence of the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound over the ills of women should induce every suffering woman to try it.

TO STAGE FASHION SHOW

New Structure Makes Possible Teaching of One of Best Home Economics Courses Anywhere

Lafayette, Ind., March 28—The new home economics building at Purdue University will be opened formally Wednesday April 11, according to announcement made today. The building will have been entirely completed by that time and every branch of the work for the instruction of girls will have been equipped and either in operation or ready for class use. A program now is being prepared by a faculty and co-ed committee.

A fashion show, to be staged by the co-eds will be a big feature, with the young women students displaying coats and dresses which they have made themselves. In connection with this show, there will be an exhibit of sewing products which they have turned out. A large number of fashionable hats made by the millinery classes will be included in the display.

Laundry work, as done by modern labor saving devices, will be shown. The nutrition section will present interesting work and show some experiments conducted by some of the co-eds in the use of rations with different vitamins to white rats and guinea pigs. The cafeteria in which the girls receive practical work in lunch room management will be in full swing, and every department will be working to give the general public an idea of some of the many things now taught in home economics.

The new structure is perhaps the most complete of its kind in the entire country, and makes possible the teaching of one of the best home economics courses to be obtained anywhere. The building itself is air-proof, of brick construction with tile roof, is two stories high and is thoroughly modern. It was erected at a cost of $240,000, which includes $36,500 for equipment. This equipment includes complete furnishings, ovens, steam table, etc., for the cafeteria which feeds from 150 to 200 students every noon.

We know there is one thing that stops eczema, and that is more red-blood-cells! S. S. S. builds them by the million! You can increase your red-blood-cells to the point where it is practically impossible for eczema to exist. We know that as blood-cells increase in number, blood impurities vanish! We also know that night follows day. Both are facts! But have you, eczema sufferers, ever actually taken advantage of this wonderful fact? Thousands just like you have never thought about it! Skin eruptions, eczema with all its fiery, skin-digging torture and its soul-tearing, unreachably itching, pimples, blackheads and boils, they all pack up and go, when the tide of blood-cells begins to roll in! Blood-cells are the fighting-giants of nature! S. S. S. builds them by the million! It has been doing it since 1890! S. S. S. is one of the greatest blood-cell builders, blood-cleansers and body builders known to us mortals! When you put these facts together,—then to continue to have eczema and skin eruptions looks more like a sin than a disease. Mrs. Arthur N. Smith, Pearl St., Newark, Ohio, writes:

"My little girl had a very bad case of eczema. She began taking S. S. S. and in well now. I thank you very much. I tell my friends what a good medicine it is. I cannot talk too much about it, for I know it is O. K."

Here is your opportunity. S. S. S. contains only vegetable medicinal ingredients. Because S. S. S. does build red-blood-cells, it fights rheumatism, builds firm flesh, fills out hollow cheeks, beautifies the complexion, builds you up when you are run-down. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores, in two sizes. The larger size bottle is the more economical.

S.S.S. makes you feel like yourself again

MAN WHO SQUEALED LIVING RIGHT NOW

Ralph Teeter, Man Who Sent Tim Murphy To Jail Is Now Member Of Hicks Bible Society

HELPED STAGE MAIL ROBBERY

Got A Chance Behind Bars To See How Low Human Being Could Sin And Then Pull Himself Out

Chicago, March 28—The romance of robbing the United States is nothing to the romance of saving souls.

The lure of the mail robber cannot be compared to the thrill of dragging a fellow human being out of the gutter and setting him on the "path called straight." Ralph Teeter one of the gang who staged the daring $360,000 Dearborn street mail robbery, declared. He was the mail clerk who planned the hold-up. Teeter, known to Chicago's "back of the yards" district as "the man who squealed" and sent Big Tim Murphy to jail for four years, is a missionary and jail worker on the staff of the Jim Hicks Bible Society here.

"I was all bad when I helped stage the Dearborn street robbery," he said. "I was like most young men. I liked a good time better than anything else. A good time costs money, and that's how I happened to plan the great mail robbery."

"But I learned my lesson during the eighteen months I laid in jail waiting to find out whether I would have to spend twenty years in prison for my part in the plot."

"I got a chance behind the bars to see how low a human being could sink—and how, given the chance, he could pull himself out of the depths."

"I decided that about the most important job a man could take was to give those fellows a chance."

"My faith in God came to me suddenly one night as I sat on my prison cot under the dim rays of the 'light that never goes out,' which swings in every jail corridor. I swore then I would give my life to the other fellow if I got free—and I will."

It was Teeter's confession, submitted as evidence at the trial, which resulted in the conviction of Murphy, Vincenzo Cosmano, and others who took part in the daring holdup, authorities declared.

Teeter said, as he told the story, that he did so as a warning "to young men who might go wrong."

He declared after he made his confession he waited months, fearing that Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis would give him the maximum sentence. Landis, however, resigned and Teeter was given his freedom by another judge.

"At the time the mail robbery occurred," Teeter said, "I didn't hesitate to plan it, although I knew it might result in murder."

"Tim Murphy needed money at the time and so did I. So I got in touch with him. We first talked about it in Indianapolis and agreed that I should get all the information, and Murphy was to do the rest."

"Later we met in Chicago. Three others were there. Murphy told me who the men were and said he was shielding them from police. The robbery wasn't arranged at that time."

"We met in Murphy's office a few days later and worked out the details. Cosmano and the others who actually pulled the robbery were there."

"These men had just held-up a garage and stolen the Cadillac automobile owned by Harold R. Wakem, Chicago millionaire. It was this car which was used in the hold-up."

"It was arranged that I should give a signal for the hold-up. When the truck which carried the money for the Chicago Federal Reserve Bank drew up to the station platform, I was to raise my hat."

"We planned to make the raid the following Wednesday."

"I was in my place and I saw the car circle the block. The truck drove up and I lifted my hat. To my surprise the bandit car dashed away. I thought I had been double-crossed. I fled. Later, however, I got my nerve back and went to see Murphy. He didn't tell me what happened, but we made our plans all over again."

"This time they went through on schedule."

The truck with the money came slowly up to the platform. I lifted my hat. The Cadillac car which had been standing across the street roared up alongside the truck. Someone fired a shot. The bandits leaped out, flourishing their guns. I was dazed. It seemed like a dream. In a little less than a minute the Cadillac sped away with $360,000 stolen from the United States government.

SHAW WORRIED OVER A SMELL

London, (By Mail to U. P.)

George Bernard Shaw has turned his heavy artillery on the local council of Ayot St. Lawrence, a Hertfordshire village, in which the writer lives. Shaw is kicking against the smell of a huge refuse dump, which he describes as "our local Vesuvius" and demands its immediate removal. In a characteristic letter to the council he says:

"My windows could not keep out the incense that rose from the dump. All night long we struggled to sleep in spite of sore throats, nausea and acute distress and disgust. The dump is worse than ever, not unnaturally, seeing it is larger than ever. It's horrors have not been mitigated, they have been aggravated. People visiting the neighborhood with a view to buying land, just take one glance, one sniff and the next train back."

The council decided to take no action, so G. B. S. continues in "eruption" to the delight of his neighbors.

AT DEATH'S DOOR

"Ten years of stomach trouble reduced me to a living skeleton. I had attacks of pain that doubled me up like a jack-knife and I was as yellow as a gold piece. No medicine or doctors helped me and was really at death's door. A lodge brother advised me to try May's Wonderful Remedy, and I found it to be the only medicine to touch my case." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. For sale by druggists everywhere. —Advertisement

THE HOME GARDEN

What is Home without a Garden?

STARTING SEEDS INDOORS

Now is the time to begin looking around for seed boxes to start seeds for the earliest crops if you have not already provided them. The most convenient boxes are known as "flats", usually made by cutting an ordinary soap box in two and placing a bottom on the top half. These flats should be from three to four inches deep, with holes bored in the bottom at six inch intervals to provide drainage. These holes should be covered with broken crockery or flower pots, so that the soil will not leak through.

For seed raising in the ordinary window of a living room or warm kitchen these flats may be too wide. In this case the cigar box is a very convenient seed box. Empty cigar boxes usually can be secured for the asking at retail tobacco dealers. It is a good plan to reinforce the fastening of the sides and bottom with a few fine tacks of sufficient length to penetrate, as they are likely to warp after the seeds have been planted and spread away from the earth. This may also be checked by binding three or four strands of wire tightly about the box before the seeds are planted.

Four holes should be bored in the bottom of the box for drainage, as in the flats. While a cigar box does not hold as much seed as the flat, it will grow a comparatively large number of plants, often all the average gardener will want, especially tomatoes, peppers or eggplants.

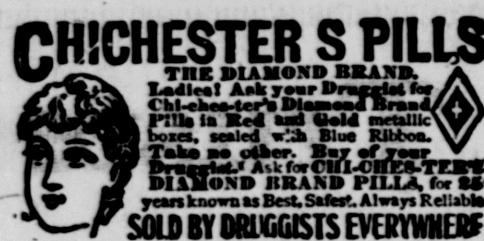

Where only a few plants are desired a flower pot is ideal, being built for drainage and for economy of space. Also it does not dry out quickly. The ten-inch pots will hold eight plants of large growing plants like castor beans, cucumbers, or melons, and the plants may be allowed to remain until ready to transplant into the open provided only the seeds are spaced in the pot when planted so they will not crowd for some time after germination.

Panes of glass to cover flats, cigar boxes and pots are to be recommended, although not essential. The glass prevents too rapid evaporation and controls the danger of the seeds drying out. Paper cut to fit or cloths which may be kept moistened may be used to cover the seed boxes, watching carefully until germination begins, when they should be removed at once. The seed boxes need not be exposed to the light until the seedlings begin to prick through.

Germany Proposes to United States
That International Business Con-

CONTENTS OF MEMORANDUM

Regarded as Advocacy of Proposal
By Secretary Hughes to Europe
Last December

(By United Press)

Washington, March 28—Germany has officially suggested to the United States that an international business conference to be participated in by America be called for the purpose of settling the Ruhr and reparations problem.

This was contained in the memorandum recently laid before Secretary of State Hughes by the German government which set forth the complete position of Germany in the occupation of the Ruhr and indicating how far the Cuno government was willing to go in bringing about a settlement. The same document was presented to Great Britain.

The United Press herewith can reveal the nature and details of this presentation of Germany's case, the contents of which have been kept as a closely guarded secret.

The German suggestion for an international business conference was in the nature of the advocacy of the proposal by Secretary Hughes to Europe last December that the reparations questions be turned over to a commission of financial and economic experts, including American experts for a recommendation of a figure within Germany's capacity to pay.

The Hughes proposal was blocked by a rebuff from France. The memorandum of the Cuno government declares Germany is ready and willing to accept the Hughes plan, and elaborates on the proposal.

Should France and all the other nations concerned accept the proposal for such an international conference.

MAY BE BURIED ON BELLE ISLE

LOVE LETTERS FOUND

Paris, March 28—Hundreds of love letters were found today hidden away in the casket which Sarah Bernhardt had prepared for death thirty years ago.

Relatives of the actress in making the casket ready to contain her body came upon them. Many were from unknown worshippers.

By WEBB MILLER
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Paris, March 28.—The body of Sarah Bernhardt was placed today in the remodeled rosewood coffin which she had held in readiness for death for thirty years.

The funeral service will begin at 8 a. m. tomorrow when the procession will accompany the body from the residence to the church of St. Francis de Sales where the beloved French artist worshipped.

The formal rites of the Catholic church will be read there and then, at 11 a. m., it is planned to conduct the funeral cortege to the famous burial ground Pere La Chaise where hundreds of France's most distinguished heroes lie. Later the body may be removed to Belle Isle where a vault will be prepared on the spot Bernhardt selected as a final resting place.

A hundred women, grieved at the death of their beloved actress rushed at police stationed at the door of her home this morning. They wanted the last chance to see her before the body was placed in the casket. Police were forced to refuse.

HIT ON HEAD BY RAIL TIE

Foreman, Is Severely Injured

Walter Thorpe, section foreman on the Big Four railroad, was severely injured Tuesday afternoon, while assisting in unloading ties from a box car about two miles south of the city along the Big Four railroad. Due to a misunderstanding of orders, the workmen in the car who were throwing the ties out, unloaded one of the heavy cross ties, while Mr. Thorpe was trying to get another tie away from the car, the tie striking him on the left side of his head and cutting a gash, two inches long. No stitches were taken to sew up the wound but it was causing him much pain today, and he was unable to work.

FATALLY WOUNDED IN BATTLE WITH POLICE

Harry Trusner Of Bedford Returns
Fire Of Officers When They Raid Alleged Rendezvous

DYNAMITE AND MASK FOUND

(By United Press)

Bedford, Ind., March 28.—Following battle with police, Harry Trusner is lying at the point of death today suffering from a bullet wound. Physicians said that the bullet penetrated Trusner's intestines eleven times and that one foot of the small intestines was removed in an effort to save his life.

Reports reaching here that a gang of five men had a rendezvous north of Bedford, caused the police to investigate. They found Trusner and "Skeeter" McBride, said to be brothers-in-law.

"Hands Up" commanded the officers. McBride complied but Trusner thrust one hand in his overcoat pocket, turned and ran. The police gave chase and fired one shot into the ground. At the shot Trusner turned and opened fire. In return the police wounded the man, but he escaped.

Later the police found and identified Trusner at a hospital where he had gone for treatment of the wounds. Search of the rendezvous revealed two sticks of dynamite and a mask.

EASTER MESSAGE IS DELIVERED TO CLUB

The Rev. Gibson Wilson Speaks To
Kiwanians And G. P. Bonney

100 PER CENT ATTENDANCE

The Rev. Gibson Wilson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, addressed the Kiwanian club at the regular weekly luncheon today at the Social club, delivering an Easter message, built around the story of the crucifixion. The address was characterized by members of the club as one of the best ever given at a luncheon.

Gerald P. Bonney, singing evangelist who has been at this church in a series of pre-Easter meetings for the past ten days, sang a solo of his own composition, which was prepared by him especially for the Easter services next Sunday.

He explained that it was written during his stay in Rushville and members of the club regarded it as an extraordinary song and very appropriate to the occasion. Mrs. Bonney also joined her husband in singing a duet at the close of the meeting.

The meeting was marked by a one hundred per cent attendance of members. Amos Baxter presided in place of the president Dr. J. B. Kinsinger.

Other guests present were Edgar Thomas of Milroy, Clyde O. Mullin of Liberty, R. F. Beach of Cincinnati and Irl Ward of Rushville.

The Rev. Gibson Wilson Points Out
That Penalty of Such a Life is Death

Special Preparations Are Made for Easter Services at First Presbyterian Church

The cost of living without Christ is heavy and the penalty is death, according to the Rev. Gibson Wilson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, in a sermon on "The Cost of Living Without Christ," Tuesday evening. The pastor took his text from James, 1:15, "Sin when it is finished bringeth forth death."

There will be services each night this week, with the exception of Saturday night. Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Bonney, singing evangelists, are delighting the people with their messages in song.

Sunday will be a full day at this church. The day begins with a sunrise prayer-meeting at six o'clock. Invitation is extended to all who wish to begin the day in this way. It is hoped that the attendance at Sunday school will pass all previous records.

At the morning services at 10:30, the sacrament of baptism will be administered, new members will be welcomed into the fellowship of the church, and the sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be celebrated. It is hoped that every member will be present.

In the evening there will be a meeting for young people at 6:30 and at 7:30 a great song service led by Mr. and Mrs. Bonney, with many special numbers.

The Rev. Mr. Wilson spoke in part last night as follows:

It is impossible to live in sin and not reap the fruit of your evil way. Whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap, is as true of life's deeds as it is of grain.

You have perhaps seen a great forest tree split asunder by another tree growing up within it. One day a bird dropped a seed in the crevice of that tree. It grew until it split the tree asunder.

The sin that you allow to stay in your life may be small but it will grow until it rends your character. You may think you are enjoying it now but the time of weeping is coming.

"A book of remembrance is kept." If sin is not put away and you take it to your death it will comfort you in eternity.

Wickedness may seem sweet now but it will be the gaul of bitterness.

ing Prohibition Law Violators
$50 and Costs

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., March 28—Mayor Roswell Johnson of Gary, one of the sixty-two defendants in the Lake county booze conspiracy case, was about to take the stand in the defense in federal court late today.

With the testimony of Johnson and Sheriff William Olds, the case of the defense will draw to a close. Indications were that the defense would rest by evening.

William Dunn, judge of the city court, a defendant, attempted to justify his practice of fining prohibition violators $50 and costs with no jail or prison sentence attached, while testifying during the morning.

Dunn said it was the general understanding among Gary that a $50 fine would be the penalty for first conviction.

Testimony of witnesses to the effect that they paid the amounts of their fines to lawyers and did not appear personally in court was explained by Dunn by saying that he always thought the defendants were in the room, when lawyers entered pleas of guilty for them. He said he believed now after hearing the evi-

TO GO TO BOTTOM OF SUGAR MUDDLE

Ascertain Who Is Responsible for

TO ENLIST TWO AGENCIES

Attorney General Daugherty and
to Probe Situation

(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

St. Augustine, Fla., March 28—President Harding is determined to go to the bottom of the sugar situation and ascertain definitely who or what is responsible for the manipulation in prices of this national necessity.

A complete government investigation—not only from the tariff angle as demanded in a letter the president has forwarded to the tariff commission—is in prospect, it was learned today.

Attorney General Daugherty will be asked to enlist the aid of the department of justice while Secretary of Commerce Hoover will probe the commercial end, according to present plans.

A conference between Daugherty and the president has been arranged for today and means of ascertaining the truth in the situation which is causing Mr. Harding much alarm will be discussed.

Mr. Harding has announced the sending of a letter to the tariff commission demanding that it attempt to learn how far the high Republican tariff goes toward influencing prices. The president feels that this tariff is not responsible and he is anxious to clear the name of the administration from accusations which have been made in some quarters.

But this is only a preliminary step in the general government inquiry.

The department of justice has full authority to go into the price situation and do things which the commerce department under Secretary Hoover could not have done. Hoover has no power to summon witnesses or command that information concerning price manipulations be given. Daugherty has.

Mr. Harding is very much aroused. The reports and counter reports which have been bandied about were brought to his attention by A. D. Lasker, chairman of the shipping board and a personal adviser of the chief executive.

JURY FINDS FOR THE DEFENSE ON CLAIM

Mrs. Minnie McKeeman Loses In Attempt To Collect $1,698 For Services Rendered

PITMAN CASE ON THURSDAY

Minnie Means McKeeman, plaintiff in a suit against the estate of Milton S. Huntington, a deceased veterinarian of New Palestine, lost her case in the circuit court here, when the jury returned a verdict this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock for the defense.

Mrs. McKeeman demanded $1,698 judgement for services rendered the deceased during his life time and for which she did not have sufficient proof to convince the jury that she had loaned the deceased money. The case originated in the Hancock circuit court, and was sent here on a change of venue.

Hearing of the evidence required Monday and Tuesday and arguments started this morning. The case was given over to the jury at 12:30 for deliberation on a verdict.

The jury will be used again Thursday, when the case of the state against Ernest Pitman will be called for trial. Pitman is charged with larceny, being accused of stealing hides from the firm of Oneal Brothers in this city, and upon which he has entered a plea of not guilty.

in Rushville Today, Unable to Make Anyone Understand Him
Until Joe Doll Is Called as Inter-
Take Job in Elevator Owned by
His Uncle

A native of Germany and his four children, unable to speak a word of English, attracted considerable curiosity here this morning at two railway stations, when they stopped off here while enroute to Morristown, coming directly from Ellis Island where they were admitted to this country from Germany.

Their railroad tickets were purchased through from Ellis Island to Morristown, and they arrived here this morning over the southbound Big Four train at eight o'clock, and their tickets called for the C. I. & W. railroad from Rushville to Morristown in order to complete the last lap of their long trip.

Being unable to speak a word of English made it a great handicap for them, and they were finally directed to the C. I. & W. station. L. C. Snodgrass, passenger agent, confronted a great problem in trying to explain to the strangers that the only train stopping at Morristown would not reach here until six o'clock tonight, and as a matter of fact, he couldn't make them understand.

The agent then attempted to tell them about the traction line, but he might as well as talked to a brick wall because they still couldn't understand.

Finally Mr. Snodgrass hit upon a happy idea. He called Joe Doll, a baker at the Weakley bakery shop, near the station, and Mr. Doll carried on the needed conversation with the German, and learned that he was going to Morristown to take employment at a grain elevator owned by his uncle.

The German stated that his wife was ready to make the voyage with them, but took sick a few hours before sailing time, and was left back home, and will come to this country later. The father was accompanied by a son, and 3 daughters.

George R. Dale Of Muncie Perfects Appeal To Supreme Court

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., March 28.—Release of George R. Dale, Muncie editor now serving a ninety day sentence on state penal farm for contempt of court was ordered today by the supreme court following approval of a $1,000 appeal bond signed by three Delaware county free holders.

Mrs. Dale accompanied by Former Judge James Moran, of Portland, her attorney, completed the appeal today at the state house and Mrs. Dale left for the penal farm to obtain her husband's release.

Dale was fined $500 and sentenced for contempt by Judge Derth at Muncie, following publication of an article declaring Judge Derth and others prosecuting a certain case, were members of the Ku Klux Klan.

Mrs. Wm. S. Hart Says She Is Not Responsible For Accusation

(By United Press)

Los Angeles, Calif., March 28.—Mrs. Wm. S. Hart today denied charges made by her husband "Bill" Hart, famous two-gun movie star, that she was responsible for accusations connecting his name with that of a Boston school teacher.

Hart, in reply to insinuations yesterday that he was the father of this teacher's illegitimate child, and that he was paying for the child's support, declared his wife, who is separated from him, responsible for the report.

Mrs. Hart, who is suing for divorce, said she would not mention the Boston charges in her suit.

"What Mr. Hart did before I married him is no concern of mine. This new development has no bearing on our trouble," she said.

dence that he might have been imposed upon.

"Do you know how it was that attorneys bargained with their clients in advances for fees and told them what the fines and costs would be?" asked district Attorney Homer Elliott on cross examination.

"The fact that I imposed a minimum fine and suspended the sentence on the first offense may have commercialized the practice," Dunn said.

Dunn entered a general denial of all charges against them, denying that he was present in the police station when Phillip Ukman, star government witness was arrested. Ukman had told a story of being arrested without charge and of being beaten into insensibility in the presence of defense officials when he refused to sign a statement incriminating himself and government dry agents in a plot to blackmail prohibition violators with forged government search warrants.

Swinging into final stages of the Gary liquor conspiracy trial in federal court here, defense attorneys unlimbered their heavy artillery today to impeach the government's evidence against defendant officials and others.

Some of the defendants testifying in their own defense have hurled boomerangs and their lawyers were trying to dress the wounds their case may have suffered in the eyes of the jury.

The government scored one of its strongest points against Mayor Roswell Johnson of Gary in cross examination of John Bennett, treasurer of the republican city committee of Gary, who is named in the indictment charging a conspiracy to dispose of confiscated whiskey illegally and protect bootleggers for payment.

District Attorney Homer Elliott drew an admission from Bennett that an "emergency fund" not listed in the committee's books existed for unlawful use.

"When we sent men out to do certain work in the precincts, we couldn't very well make a report on it," Bennett testified in reply to a question. He admitted that part of this fund was a $500 contribution from Gaspari Monti, murdered king of Gary's little Italy who was to have been the government's star witness.

Blaz Lucas, Gary lawyer whose name has figured more prominently in the case than any other defendant, was star witness for the defense. He put more pep into the trial than has been shown since the defense opened last Thursday. Without hesitation, Lucas replied to all questions and even corrected his own attorney and District Attorney Elliott on some details.

Lucas denied all charges that he had split large fees with City Judge William Dunn Prosecutor Dwight Kinder or anyone else. He admitted that on some occasions he had told defendants charged with violating prohibition what their fines would be before the case was tried and had taken money for the fine before the hearing.

party have pointed out editorial in many newspapers indirectly attacking the administration and directly blaming the high Republican tariff. In seeking vindication in an investigation, Mr. Harding realizes the importance of preventing Democrats from making political propaganda out of the situation, it was said.

Mr. Harding likewise realizes that a mere announcement that the high tariff is not responsible for the high sugar price will not satisfy the public. It is recalled that the sugar situation of 1919 caused Mr. Wilson much trouble and with Mr. Harding's proposed western campaign tour in prospect he desires to clear up the existing situation with the utmost celerity.

GOOD SEED PROFITABLE

J. O. Pattie Raised 300 Bus. Potatoes Off 1 And Three-Fourths Acres

Lafayette, Ind., March 28.—Good seed stock, proved by experience to be a profitable investment for J. A. Pattie, a Spencer county farmer as he secured 340 bushels of potatoes from 1 1/4 acres, according to a letter to Purdue university. The highest yield was 250 bushels per acre, but on the 1 1/4 acre tract planted at different times a total of 340 bushels of real potatoes were harvested.

Certified seed, which comes with a tag of inspection on every bag, guaranteeing it to be true to variety and comparatively free from disease, is the first big factor toward a successful potato patch, Purdue contends.

Deaf Child Hears Music That Comes Through Air By Radio

Girl in State School For Deaf Able to Distinguish Between Strains of Dance Orchestra and Other Sounds. Other Deaf Pupils Also Recognize Music.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 28.—Isabel Schabel, a deaf child heard music coming through the air by radio last night.

The girl's face lighted up as strains of a dance orchestra penetrated her ears that had been useless since she was an infant. Her feet started beating time with the music.

Instructors, pupils and visitors at the state school for deaf where Isabel is a pupil, crowded around her. She had been considered totally deaf.

Then the music stopped and an announcer started talking. Isabel signalled she could hear nothing. When the receivers were first clamped on her head, the instrument was "tuned in" on a Detroit dance orchestra. Isabel's face did not change expression. Then came the louder strains of an Indianapolis orchestra and the girl's joy was reflected in her smile.

A number of students considered deaf could distinguish between music and speaking. Some could not even hear the music.

Leon Heinrich, of South Bend, an advanced pupil, put the receivers to his ears. His face was a study. Then he signalled:

"I can hear something like a street car."

But instructors said the vibrations of the receivers and of a street car probably were the same and the boy was confused. Later, however, when an Indianapolis station was broadcasting he accurately and repeatedly distinguished between music and talking.

Gladys Heavenridge of Muncie, listed as totally deaf, insisted she could detect sound. Julia Guley of Winchester could distinguish accurately between music and speaking.

Some of the boys heard so well they were loathe to relinquish the receivers. They were boys who had partial hearing but could not hear sufficiently to go to ordinary schools.

Howard Paust of Richmond, deaf since he was a year old, heard when the Indianapolis station came in, but could not hear stations farther away. Helen Skelton of Terre Haute, deaf since she was a baby, insisted she could detect sound. Lola Atwood of Vincennes could feel vibrations but did not think she was hearing.

Dorothy Jones of Anderson and Walter Brady of Muncie did not respond. Some of the instructors who have no hearing said they could detect nothing.

PRE-EASTER WEEK EVENTS

Glenwood Christian Church

The Glenwood Christian church, which is observing Pre-Easter week of prayer services, will meet Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. M. A. Kendall, and Mrs. Greenup Thompson will be the leader. The services Tuesday were held at the home of Mrs. Albert Sieking, with Mrs. Thomas Richardson as leader.

On Sunday, Sunrise prayer meeting will be held at the church at 5:30 o'clock, with T. G. Richardson as the leader. Bible School will be held at 9:30, followed by an Easter program by the young people of the church, and sponsored by Mrs. Leslie Hinchman and Mrs. Dan Geise.

Hartford City —Nearly 1,000 children were examined by Lilah Curry, county health nurse, during the past year. County council didn't appropriate money to continue the work.

Stable manure is growing scarcer and scarcer, and more and more expensive. Save your leaves and vegetable refuse for a compost heap this spring. This compost with commercial fertilizers has to take the place of stable manure.

Bone meal is good, fertilizer for everything. Always have some of it handy.

Buy enough seeds the first time so you won't need to wait when you are ready to plant. Get staples by the ounce and half ounce.

Did you know that tomatoes have two kinds of leaves? One is fine cut. The other is "potato" leaved. The potato leaved kind is hardier than the other kind, and stands dry weather better.

Celery cabbage, or Pe Tsai, doesn't smell like cabbage when it is cooked. The reason is easy; it isn't cabbage, but a mustard. If you haven't grown Pe Tsai or Wong Bok you have missed something. Nothing better for a fall salad, as delicate as lettuce and better flavored, and it always heads, if you try. It is best eaten raw, but very good when cooked.

The government has come to the rescue of asparagus growers with a rustproof "grass." If you are starting an asparagus patch try the new Washington variety. It has the government O. K. for flavor, size and growth.

Soak your beet seeds over night, if it is a dry spring.

Save celery tops and dry them for soup and stew flavor. They give more flavor dry than they do fresh when cooked.

Put this in your note book: If mature heads of cabbage start to split this summer pull them enough to loosen the roots in the soil without breaking them.

INEXPRESSIBLE PEACE:—The peace of God which passeth all understanding shall keep your hearts and minds through Jesus Christ—Phil. 4:7.

A State Institution

Some objection to the proposed campaign for funds to help erect and equip the James Whitcomb Riley Hospital for children has been heard, on the score that the hospital would not be a state institution, but would be used almost exclusively by Indianapolis on account of it being located there. Some persons have been inclined to the belief that Indianapolis children would be given preference and that there would be little chance from children in other parts of the state ever being admitted for surgical operations or treatment.

Those familiar with the facts, have attempted to refute this idea wherever they find it, because it is far from the truth. The Riley hospital will be managed exactly as Robert W. Long hospital has been managed by the board of trustees of Indiana university.

The state university trustees are men coming from all parts of Indiana. Only one of them, James W. Fessler, lives in Indianapolis. It was he who, in an address here Tuesday evening, March 20, set out that the hospital would be for the benefit of the whole state.

If there is still doubt in the minds of those who object to the hospital on the theory that it will not be a state-wide institution, they need only to consult the record at the Long hospital.

Since June, 1914, when the Long hospital was opened, 278 Rush county residents, both children and grown people, have received treatment in the hospital and there are now 348 persons on the Long hospital waiting list. They represent sixty-seven counties and thirteen of those seeking admission to the hospital are from Rush county.

Summing up his speech, Mr. Fessler said: "You will see by this that the Long hospital is not an Indianapolis institution, but truly a state hospital, controlled by the board of trustees of Indiana university, and the Riley hospital will be conducted along similar lines, only on a larger scale."

This should be evidence enough that every county in Indiana will have an equal opportunity in gaining admission to the hospital for patients, who may be sent by a physician or through the circuit or juvenile court. They will be admitted in the order that application for admission is made and the fear that favoritism will be shown Indianapolis children is groundless.

This can be no excuse for giving to the Riley hospital campaign because it is not a legitimate one.

Titles Are Less Valuable

A few years ago American heiresses were crazy to marry foreigners with titles. Princes and dukes were prime favorites, but any old bird with a "handle" was acceptable. A title was a title, regardless of the personality of the man who owned it.

The case of the Duke of Marlborough is an example. The duke married Consuela Vanderbilt, and was shrewd enough to have $125,000 of the Vanderbilt money settled upon him.

The duke was so rotten Consuela

had to divorce him, but she couldn't divorce the $125,000 a year. That sticks to the duke for life.

Today American heiresses are not so keen after titles—not because our crop of heiresses is acquiring more sense, but simply for the reason that titles of nobility are becoming discredited articles and are no longer prized by women who have the money with which to purchase them.

But it is interesting to know that millions of dollars in good American gold are crossing the Atlantic every year to satisfy the vanity of women who have places where brains ought to have been.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY

From The Daily Republican
Saturday, March 28, 1908

It seems as if every Republican in Rush county intends to attend the Republican State convention at Indianapolis next Wednesday and Thursday or both. It is the common salutation on the streets.

Owne Bush, who first came into prominence as a good baseball prospect on the old Rushville team, and who signed with Indianapolis this season, is making a creditable showing in the practice games.

Prof. J. H. Scholl was elected vice-president of the grammar section of the State Teachers' association at Indianapolis Friday. The office is fitting recognition of Superintendent Scholl's untiring efforts in educational work. He has been an active worker in the state association for years.

The office of the city water and light plant, which has been located at the city clerk's office at the court house for a number of months, will be moved to the water and light plant on April 1.

J. T. Houser's delivery horse cut up some and tore up some yesterday afternoon. The driver, W. H. Arnold, was thrown out on his head, but escaped injury; the wagon was badly damaged; and the cause of it all, the horse, escaped without a scratch.

Walter Frazee, who is a student at the Lexington Bible college, is the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Frazee in North Harrison street.

George Moore, Jr., left today for Danville, Ind., where he will enter school.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Hall celebrated an elaborate style their china wedding anniversary last night at their home on the Powers farm, north of town. More than seventy guests were entertained. Mr. and Mrs. Hall were the recipients of many pretty and valuable china presents. Dainty refreshments of cream, cake and coffee were served. A. P. Wagoner's orchestra furnished music during the evening.

The fire department is getting the new horse, recently purchased, fairly well broke into the work and it is thought he will prove an excellent horse for the place.

Lincoln Giffin will have charge of the music and will be "fullback" in the big football Bible school contest at the Main Street Christian church. W. A. Stockinger and Cecil Clark will be referees.

MUNICIPAL SCALES

Warsaw, Ind., March 28.—The decision of the city council to establish a municipal scales has brought charges to the effect that the body is planning the passage of an ordinance that would require the weighing of all coal and certain other commodities sold here and has been met with a denial by Mayor John A. Sloane, and the members of council. Coal dealers, in particular have taken offense, declaring that the establishment of the city scales was directed at them and this also was denied by the councilmen. The scales will be operated by C. A. Butler on a per cent basis.

RADIO FANS ASKED TO NEED "SAFETY FIRST"

Indianapolis, Ind., March 28.—Safety engineers who have made a study of radio hazards agree that while any child may be able to operate a radio outfit, it takes an experienced electrician to install one free from fire and other hazards. Many accidents have been prevented by the prompt action of electric power companies, which made surveys of their properties, eliminated aerials in close proximity to live lines and gave warnings and information to the public.

All wiring should be approved by some competent authority, especially when connections are made to the ordinary electric light service. In some cases special wiring is required as the installation of a rectifier and battery might overload the circuit. Equipment should always be properly located. A place easily accessible to small children is no place for a storage battery, with its acids, fumes and possible fire hazard. A wave of radio installations has swept the country and many accidents have resulted because the advice of an electrician was not asked.

Following is a list of radio "don'ts":

Never pick up a wire lying on the ground or dangling from a pole. It might be "alive." Report fallen wires immediately to the police or power company. Never string wireless aerials over or under any other wires. Never attach radio aerials or anything to poles carrying wires of any sort. Always attach aerials to substantial supports so located that if either the support or aerial breaks it can not come in contact with other wires. It is quite practical to operate a radio set with an indoor aerial. Do not use kite aerials. Do not attach antennae to chimneys. Someone might be down below when the bricks start falling.

U. S. TENNIS STAR SEEKS DAVIS CUP

England To Compete With Many
Tennis Champions

AMERICAN COLORS TO FLY

This Country Will Be Represented
In Tennis, The Same As It Was
In Golf Tourney

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

New York, March 28.—American colors were spread all over the place when the out-door season had its real opening in England last week. The display of those same colors should appear almost in the same profusion as the season progresses.

With the exception of the British amateur golf championship, the American entries in all of the other European classics border on the cinch class. It does not follow that the American amateur golfers going in quest of the British title are of inferior ability, but the team is not representative of the real power of the amateur game in this country.

Vincent Richards announced some time ago that he had decided to go after the British tennis championship at Wimbledon and Vinnie stands a mighty fine chance to win the title that was won twice by "Big Bill" Tilden.

Richards is the third among the tennis players of this country but there are no players on the other side who can compare with Tilden or Bill Johnston, the only ones who rank above the Fordham star.

If the Australians carry out their plan to send a team of youngsters after the Davis cup, Gerald Patterson, the present Wimbledon champion, will not be able to defend his title; and that removes the biggest obstacle Richards would have to face.

Another formidable contender was also removed from competition when Manuel Alonzo, the brilliant Spanish player, came to this country to establish himself in business. With his brother, he is going to make Philadelphia his home and will not compete in the Wimbledon tournament or in the Davis cup matches.

France has several good young players, but they lack the experience of the American boy and none of the veteran players have anything on him.

Forced to play against Mlle. Lenglen, who seems to be in the best form of her career, Miss Leslie Baneroff, the Boston girl, who is now in England, can hardly hope to win the women's championship at Wimbledon; she has a fine chance to finish second, and that is all any American can aspire for at the present time with the French girl at the peak of her game.

The American delegation of pro golfers headed by Walter Hagen, Gene Sarazen, Jim Barnes and Jack Huthelison makes it look as though there will be a battle royal among the Americans for the British open cup.

BLIND PLAY BASKETBALL IN NEBRASKA

By I. I. FEMRITE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

Lincoln, Nebr., March 17.—The most remarkable basket ball teams in existence, probably the only ones of their kind in the world, may be found at the Pittsburgh Nebraska institute for the blind.

This institute has actually developed among its members rival quintets, and in spite of their handicap, they play a game which causes one to marvel at their speed and accuracy.

Basketball for the blind is, of course, not the ordinary cage game, but is modified to some extent. The greatest obstacle in the way of the sightless is accurate basket shooting. However, this difficulty has been met by placing eight rubber mats on the floor, four in the vicinity of each basket. These serve as landmarks, as they can be easily felt with the feet, from which the players try for the goals.

They train to shoot from these spots and acquire the knack of catching the sphere with ease. The foul line is marked with a strip of linoleum pasted to the floor at the regular seventeen foot distance, and may thus be discerned by touching with the foot.

Probably the greatest problem of all for the boys is passing the ball. In this game, where speed counts, teams whose members have all their senses have great difficulty sometimes in knowing where their colleagues are. The institute teams, however, seem to have found an extraordinary faculty of feeling out just where the various players are located. A system of signaling by stamping with their feet has been invented and helps the players in communicating with their teammates.

when it comforts you in the day of judgment. Common sense should show us the folly of living in sin. A few years ago the police of New York City were on the track of some counterfeiters and to escape being captured, they threw their stamps and dies into the sea. Only a year later while dredging for oysters, the stamps were brought up and the men arrested. Even the sea gave up the evidence of guilt committed to it.

Another cost of living without Christ is death. "Sin when it is finished bringeth forth death." It brings forth physical death. Its early promises may be fascinating but its stages are always progressive downward. Just watch the accounts in the papers and see how sin is destroying every worthy ambition and taking the lives of many as its price which it demands.

It also brings spiritual death. The soul is benumbed with sin, and we refuse to hear the call of the divine within.

Further cost of living without Christ is that we will be rejected of him in the day of judgment. Sin rejects Jesus here and the cost is that he rejects us hereafter. The question is not "What shall I do then with Jesus?" but what shall I do without him.

Final separation is another price we pay for rejecting him. A distinct line of separation is going on between the good and the bad. On the one side is God with truth, right and heaven on his side. On the other side is Satan with false, wrong and hell. This grouping is ever going on in men's lives.

Paul puts the cost of rejecting Christ in this way, "Whose end is destruction," perdition. Worldliness may prosper for a while but its end is destruction, and the sad part about it is that so often it does not stop with the individual but leads whole families into its evil consequences.

Apparent escape from evil may fill one with a sense of security but doom comes at last. The people who lived near Mt. Pelee had often been warned of the dangers. There was likely to be an eruption of the volcano at any time. But they became calloused as to their dangers and when the eruption did come the entire city of St. Pierre was buried under the lava and only sixteen lives were saved. They failed to give heed to the warnings until it was too late. Must all that has been done for you in heaven be in vain? Must ev-

NEW FLYWEIGHT CHAMPION

HAIL THE CHAMP

Frankie Genaro, new flyweight champion of America—seen as the happy husband and father in the bosom of his family, in New York City. A few days ago Frankie was just a good flyweight—today he wears the crown of king of his division after defeating Pancho Villa, the little Filipino, in a slashing fifteen round bout at Madison Square Garden, New York City. He acquired the title by the slightest margin in the world. Here are Mr. and Mrs. Genaro with their two children, Anthony and Marie.

everything that has been done for you on earth, in song, sermon, Sunday school church, have been done in vain. Will you go out to defeat all the purposes of God for your eternal welfare?

My hearers, you can't afford to pay the cost of living without Jesus Christ in your life as your friend.

PRESIDENT IS IMPROVING

Doubles Exercise And Will Now Play
36 Holes Of Golf A Day

St. Augustine, Fla., March 28.—Improvement in the condition of President Harding is observed each day of his Florida vacation trip.

When Mr. Harding left Washington his face was lined with little wrinkles, caused by the strain of official duties and the strenuous activities in the closing days of a none too sympathetic congress. The president was good for only 18 holes of golf then.

Up to this week the president has continued with only 18 holes; but yesterday he doubled his ration of exercise and now will play 36 holes each day whenever possible. This necessitates spending practically an entire day at the links.

English Sports Worried

(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, March 28.—England is alarmed over the prospect of having Jimmy Wilde, the Empire's only champion, knocked over by Pancho Villa, the little coffee-colored Filipino.

From the walls being printed in the London press it would seem that the superiority of the American is so firmly established that it would be only a painful ceremony to go through with transferring the crown.

That Wilde should have decided to risk his great reputation after more than two years' abstention from boxing and at a period of his boxing career when it has been made plain that he is not the Wilde of old, invincible at his own weight and at anything up to a stone above it, will be a cause of regret to his thousands of admirers, Sporting Life (London) says.

"He has been urged again and again to retire since his defeat by Pete Herman. True, it was no disgrace to be beaten by such a man, for Wilde was trying to give away a stone to the best bantamweight we have seen in this country for a long stretch of years. It was evident in that contest that Wilde was not the man we used to know."

"Still, boxing is a business and money, and Wilde has been tempted by an American offer which will put into his bank a small fortune."

Wilde isn't risking his great reputation by fighting now. He's adding to it by not following the example of American champions in picking up setups. Wilde's reputation now consists in what he was, not what he is, and if he is knocked out or loses to Villa, it will not detract one bit from what he was.

More or less casually, the London papers also announced a few days ago that Harry Wills was going to leave the United States for Europe next month and that he had been engaged to do battle with that other colored battler, Battling Siki.

The program was closed with a reading "The Angel's Good Night" by Mrs. Norris.

Janet Dean Complimented For Solo Work With I. U. Orchestra

Miss Janet Dean, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. D. H. Dean of this city, and a student at Indiana University, Bloomington, received favorable comment for her violin solo part, in which she appeared recently with the University orchestra at a recital. The Daily Student, the college newspaper, relates the following, which will be of interest to Miss Dean's friends in this city:

Dr. Paul Herbert Kleeman and Janet Dean, '24, were the soloists at the convocation recital by the university orchestra yesterday. Dr. Kleeman captivated the audience with his "Vision Fugitive" aria from Massenet's "Herodiade." His voice is a rich baritone, his enunciation is clear and his singing is expressive. But though he has "arrived" he has by no means reached the full maturity of his powers. Mr. Geiger was at the piano.

Dr. Kleeman, who is a pupil of Mr. Geiger and who has appeared here twice before, availed himself of a brief vacation from the stage to visit his teacher and sing at the convocation.

Miss Dean played the "Legende by Wieniawski," with orchestra accompaniment. Despite her timidity she played with cool comprehension and without a break. She has technical equipment and good understanding and needs only to let herself go to take an assured place among the campus soloists—a not mean company.

The orchestra under Dean Merrill played the opening and closing numbers. The first number, the prelude to the third act of "Lohengrin" with the bridal chorus, was one of the best performances the orchestra has ever given. The bridal chorus was at least cleansed of the accretions and sophistications which too great popularity has fastened upon it, and was restored to its pristine festal purity.

Czibulka's "Ball Scenes" waltzes were unmistakably "weanersch" (Viennese) in melody and in the refinement that goes with the strings. Special mention must be made of the solo passages in both orchestra numbers. The bassoon solo work, in the Wagner number, played by Elizabeth Gwathkin, '24, is less outstanding, but even so, accounted in good part for the success of the selection.

Booneville—Harold Kelly and Albert VanWinkle have started a hike to Chicago and New York, as a result of a wager. They must be back by August to win.

DEMURRER BEING PREPARED

To Be Filed To Charges Of S. F. Spohn, Fighting For Tax Exemption

Indianapolis, Ind., March 28.—Demurrer to charges of Samuel F. Spohn, Goshen, now fighting for tax exemption in the Elkhart circuit court because his property is occupied by a National Guard unit, is being prepared by the state board of tax commissioners and will be filed soon, Wm. A. Hough, commissioner said today.

The property, privately owned, is leased to the state for five years and the owner is seeking an injunction to restrain the county auditor and treasurer either from placing the property on the tax duplicates or from forcing payment by sale.

The demurrer will be on the grounds that the property is a privately owned investment, not open for exemption under existing statutes.

day night "Methodist Sam" Polovina will speak. He spoke at the church a few weeks ago and told a very interesting story of his life. He has appeared at different churches in the county and has drawn large crowds each time he spoke. It is expected that the church will be filled at this service.

The pastor took his text at Tuesday evening's service from Gal. 5:11, "The Offense of the Cross" and in part said:

"Strange is it not that the cross, which to us is the way to peace and joy, should to any one be an offense and a stumbling block? But such it was to many in Paul's day and such it is to many in our own time."

"It was on offense to the Jews because it shattered their dreams of temporal power. If for years you had been building air castles of future wealth, liberty and fame and one day that dispenser of destiny, the telegraph messenger boy, had given you a yellow slip of paper that tumbled your dreams into dust, you would have a sense of bitter disappointment. Such was the message of the cross to the Jews. They expected the Messiah to restore the Kingdom to Israel. They believed that he would place the sceptre of Judah above the eagles of Rome. Instead, he was seized by Roman hands, placed on a Roman cross, pierced by Roman nails and a Roman spear and crucified by Roman soldiers. No wonder the cross was destroyed, their hopes became a stumbling block and an offense."

"It was a stumbling block because the cross, now a badge of honor, was then a sign of crime and of disgrace. It was an offense because it swept away the national distinction which had been theirs. They believed themselves a chosen nation, a peculiar people, favored of the Lord above all others. On the cross Christ abolished this distinction between Jew and Gentile, for he died for all men. Henceforth there should be neither Jew nor Greek, for Christ should be all and in all."

"The Cross is an offense today because it shatters the world's dreams of selfish pleasure. If I should ask you, to write in one word, the meaning of the cross, it would be others. If I should ask you to write one word describing many earthly dreams, it would be self. Many men seek wealth, position, power that they may contribute to their selfish pleasures."

"God does not desire to limit our happiness, rather to increase it including others. Give the cross the right place and there will ever be more of laughter than of tears, more of sunshine than of shadow, more of pleasure than of pain. He is the happiest man who observes the laws of growth and develops his own powers to the fullest in unselfish service of others."

"The Cross is an offense to man because it rebukes his self righteousness. Pride revolts at the thought of dependence for salvation upon another. It does not please the natural heart. It was not designed to please men and to save men. Give self the right of way and Christianity would soon be doomed."

"The cross is self sacrifice at its highest. It rebukes in man, which is self assertion. It convicts man of moral perversity. It reveals that which should be the aim, the purpose, the power of every true life—the highest good for all others. Without the cross, the highest world would be impossible. The cross reveals the inner life of God and makes possible the higher life of man. God and man meet in the cross. It reaches to the very heights of Heaven and descends to the lowest depth of earth, that the lowest of earth may gain the height of heaven."

THEATRES MOVIES

Conceded by experts to be one of the most thrilling scenes ever flung upon a screen, in which a veteran fire horse plunges through a seething wall of flame, with a rider on its back, the vividly dramatic climax in the great fireman's melodrama "The Third Alarm" is one of the thrilling scenes to be seen to-day and Thursday at the Princess Theatre, where the production is paying a tribute to the fire-fighters of this community and others throughout the land.

The horse which takes part in this stirring episode is none other than "Bullet", oldest horse of the fire department of the City of Los Angeles, from which he was borrowed especially for this production by Mr. Emory Johnson, the producer. "Bullet" has been to more than a thousand fires in his day. He is now more than twenty years old and has been retired and pensioned on an old farm for almost five years. When he was required by the script of "The Third Alarm" to plunge through a wave of flames with a rider on his back—in the person of Ralph Lewis—and then haul and tug with a rope about his neck until he pulled a huge safe out of the blazing ruins and liberated a girl and a boy, he went right about his job—and no questions asked.

As a result, this scene is one of the most stirring of this unusual production, which is conceded to be by all odds the greatest fireman's picture ever created. The horse, of course was uninjured.

Western At Mystic Today

A western thriller of tense interest comes to the Mystic Theatre to-day when William Fox presents Dustin Farnum in his latest production "Three Who Paid." The story is from the pen of George Owen Barter, scenario by Joseph Franklin

Poland and directed by Colin Campbell.

Dustin Farnum, one of the most popular stars, rank foremost for his portrayal of western roles. His splendid physique, his infectious smile and virile robustness have endeared him to the public. And he does not disappoint in "THREE WHO PAID."

There are dealings of the cards in this picture, and fate decrees that three must pay for an underhand deed. Dustin, firm sponsor of Justice, dominates the rapid story development. Softening the whole is the whimsical presence of little Bessie Love, the star's leading lady. Exquisite scenery forms a lovely background for the civil action that sweeps this picture to a charming end, following a pell mell rush of action that sends the red mounting in hot waves to your cheeks.

The cast includes besides Mr. Farnum and his leading lady, Bessie Love, Frank Campeau, Fred Kohler, Robert Daly, William Conklin and Robert Agnew.

OPEN ECONOMICS BUILDING APRIL 11

Program is Being Prepared for the Formal Opening of New Building at Purdue University

TO STAGE FASHION SHOW

New Structure Makes Possible Teaching of One of Best Home Economics Courses Anywhere

Lafayette, Ind., March 28—The new home economics building at Purdue University will be opened formally Wednesday April 11, according to announcement made today. The building will have been entirely completed by that time and every branch of the work for the instruction of girls will have been equipped and either in operation or ready for class use. A program now is being prepared by a faculty and co-ed committee.

A fashion show, to be staged by the co-eds will be a big feature, with the young women students displaying coats and dresses which they have made themselves. In connection with this show, there will be an exhibit of sewing products which they have turned out. A large number of fashionable hats made by the millinery classes will be included in the display.

Laundry work, as done by modern labor saving devices, will be shown. The nutrition section will present interesting work and show some experiments conducted by some of the co-eds in the use of rations with different vitamins to white rats and guinea pigs. The cafeteria in which the girls receive practical work in lunch room management will be in full swing, and every department will be working to give the general public an idea of some of the many things now taught in home economics.

The new structure is perhaps the most complete of its kind in the entire country, and makes possible the teaching of one of the best home economics courses to be obtained anywhere. The building itself is air-proof, of brick construction with tile roof, is two stories high and is thoroughly modern. It was erected at a cost of $240,000, which includes $36,500 for equipment. This equipment includes complete furnishings; ovens, steam table, etc., for the cafeteria which feeds from 150 to 200 students every noon.

We know there is one thing that stops eczema, and that is more red blood cells! S. S. S. builds them by the million! You can increase your red blood cells to the point where it is practically impossible for eczema to exist. We know that as blood cells increase in number, blood impurities vanish! We also know that night follows day. Both are facts! But have you, eczema sufferers, ever actually taken advantage of this wonderful fact? Thousands just like you have never thought about it! Skin eruptions, eczema with all its fiery, skin-digesting torture and its soul-tearing, unrelenting itching, pimples, blackheads and boils, they all pack up and go, when the tide of blood-cells begins to roll in! Blood-cells are the fighting-giants of nature! S. S. S. builds them by the million! It has been doing it since 1891! S. S. S. is one of the greatest blood-cell builders, blood-cleaners and body-builders known to us mortals! When you put these facts together, then to continue to have eczema and skin eruptions looks more like a sin than a disease. Mrs. Arthur N. Smith, Pearl St., Newark, Ohio, writes:

“My little girl had a very bad case of eczema. She began taking S. S. S. and to well now. I thank you very much. I tell my friends what a good medicine it is. I cannot talk too much about it, for I know it is O. K.”

Here is your opportunity. S. S. S. contains only vegetable medicinal ingredients. Because S. S. S. does build red blood-cells, it cures rheumatism, builds firm flesh, fills out hollow cheeks, beautifies the complexion, builds you up when you are run down. S. S. MAN WHO DEALER LIVING RIGHT NOW

HELPED STAGE MAIL ROBBERY

Got A Chance Behind Bars To See How Low Human Being Could Sink And Then Pull Himself Out

Chicago, March 26.—The romance of robbing the United States is nothing to the romance of saving souls.

The lure of the mail robber can not be compared to the thrill of dragging a fellow human being out of the gutter and setting him on the "path" called straight. Ralph Teeter, one of the gang who staged the daring $360,000 Dearborn street mail robbery, declared. He was the mail clerk who planned the hold-up. Teeter, known to Chicago's "back of the yards" district as "the man who squealed" and sent Big Tim Murphy to jail for four years, is a missionary and jail worker on the staff of the Jim Hicks Bible Society here.

"I was all bad when I helped stage the Dearborn street robbery," he said. "I was like most young men. I liked a good time better than anything else. A good time costs money, and that's how I happened to plan the great mail robbery."

"But I learned my lesson during the eighteen months I laid in jail waiting to find out whether I would have to spend twenty years in prison for my part in the plot."

"I got a chance behind the bars to see how low a human being could sink—and how, given the chance, he could pull himself out of the depths."

"I decided that about the most important job a man could take was to give those fellows a chance."

"My faith in God came to me suddenly one night as I sat on my prison cot, under the dim rays of the light that never goes out, which swings in every jail corridor. I swore then I would give my life to the other fellow if I got free—and I will."

It was Teeter's confession, submitted as evidence at the trial, which resulted in the conviction of Murphy, Vincenzo Cosmano, and others who took part in the daring holdup, authorities declared.

Teeter said, as he told the story, that he did so as a warning "to young men who might go wrong."

"The government didn't have anything on the gang," he said. "They could never have convicted them if I had not confessed."

He declared after he made his confession he waited months, fearing that Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis would give him the maximum sentence. Landis, however, resigned and Teeter was given his freedom by another judge.

"At the time the mail robbery occurred," Teeter said, "I didn't hesitate to plan it, although I knew it might result in murder."

"Tim Murphy needed money at the time and so did I. So I got in touch with him. We first talked about it in Indianapolis and agreed that I should get all the information, and Murphy was to do the rest."

"Later we met in Chicago. Three others were there. Murphy told me who the men were and said he was shielding them from police. The robbery wasn't arranged at that time."

"These men had just held up a garage and stolen the Cadillac automobile owned by Harold R. Wakem, Chicago millionaire. It was this car which was used in the hold-up."

"It was arranged that I should give a signal for the hold-up. When the truck which carried the money for the Chicago Federal Reserve Bank drew up to the station platform, I was to raise my hat."

"We planned to make the raid the following Wednesday."

"I was in my place and I saw the car circle the block. The truck drove up and I lifted my hat. To my surprise the bandit car dashed away. I thought I had been double-crossed. I fled. Later, however, I got my nerve back and went to see Murphy. He didn't tell me what happened, but we made our plans all over again."

"This time they went through on schedule."

The truck with the money came slowly up to the platform. I lifted my hat. The Cadillac car which had been standing across the street roared up alongside the truck. Some one fired a shot. The bandits leaped out, flourishing their guns. I was dazed. It seemed like a dream. In a little less than a minute the Cadillac sped away with $360,000 stolen from the United States government.

"As the car hurtled around the corner a policeman emptied his gun at it. Then people started running around like chickens."

SHAW WORRIED OVER A SMELL

London, (By Mail to U. P.)

George Bernard Shaw has turned his heavy artillery on the local council of Ayot St. Lawrence, a Hertfordshire village, in which the writer lives. Shaw is kicking against the smell of a huge refuse dump, which he describes as "our local Vesuvius" and demands its immediate removal. In a characteristic letter to the council he says:

"My windows could not keep out the incense that rose from the dump. All night long we struggled to sleep in spite of sore throats, nausea and acute distress and disgust. The dump is worse than ever, not unnaturally, seeing it is larger than ever. It's horrors have not been mitigated, they have been aggravated. People visiting the neighborhood with a view to buying land, just take one glance, one sniff and the next train back."

The council decided to take no action, so G. B. S. continues in "eruption" to the delight of his neighbors.

AT DEATH'S DOOR

"Ten years of stomach trouble reduced me to a living skeleton. I had attacks of pain that doubled me up like a jack-knife and I was as yellow as a gold piece. No medicine or doctors helped me and was really at death's door. A lodge brother advised me to try May's Wonderful Remedy, and I found it to be the only medicine to touch my case." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. For sale by druggists everywhere.

THE HOME GARDEN

What is Home without a Garden?

STARTING SEEDS INDOORS
Now is the time to begin looking around for seed boxes to start seeds for the earliest crops if you have not already provided them. The most convenient boxes are known as "flats", usually made by cutting an ordinary soap box in two and placing a bottom on the top half. These flats should be from three to four inches deep, with holes bored in the bottom at six inch intervals to provide drainage. These holes should be covered with broken crockery or flower pots, so that the soil will not leak through.

For seed raising in the ordinary window of a living room or warm kitchen these flats may be too wide. In this case the cigar box is a very convenient seed box. Empty cigar boxes usually can be secured for the asking at retail tobacco dealers. It is a good plan to reinforce the fastening of the sides and bottom with a few fine tacks, of sufficient length to penetrate, as they are likely to warp after the seeds have been planted and spread away from the earth. This may also be checked by binding three or four strands of wire tightly about the box before the seeds are planted.

Four holes should be bored in the bottom of the box for drainage, as in the flats. While a cigar box does not hold as much seed as the flat, it will grow a comparatively large number of plants, often all the average gardener will want, especially tomatoes, peppers or eggplants.
Where only a few plants are desired a flower pot is ideal, being built for drainage and for economy of space. Also it does not dry out quickly. The ten-inch pots will hold eight plants of large growing plants like castor beans, cucumbers, or melons, and the plants may be allowed to remain until ready to transplant into the open, provided only the seeds are spaced in the pot when planted so they will not crowd for some time after germination.
Panes of glass to cover flats, cigar boxes and pots are to be recommended, although not essential. The glass prevents too rapid evaporation and controls the danger of the seeds drying out. Paper cut to fit or cloths which may be kept moistened may be used to cover the seed boxes, watching carefully until germination begins, when they should be removed at once. The seed boxes need not be exposed to the light until the seedlings begin to prick through.

If I Could Play Golf—
I WOULD combine business and pleasure by making it a point to teach golf on the park greens. Golf is a real, he-man sport. Once a golfer—always a golfer.

To begin with, I would get my name into print with the help of Daily Republican Want Ads. I would tell folks I was an able instructor who would not only supply clubs while they were getting the swing of things, but stand by and overcome the first period of stage fright.

The more I think of this thing, the more I think it would be wise to get my Want Ad working for me tomorrow.

CONFERENCE SET FOR NEXT MONTH

Meetings to be Devoted to Music Will be Held at Liberty and Shelbyville April 17-18.

ANNUAL M. E. CHURCH EVENTS

Speakers of Note Will Speak And Dean McCutchan of DePauw Will Assist With Music

C.

The afternoon session at this conference will open at two o'clock with a congregational singing, followed by a talk on "The Reading and Singing of Hymns," by the Rev. W. T. Williams, of Wapakoneta, O. Dean Robert G. McCutchan, of the music school of DePauw University will also speak at this session on "Music in the Small church." At four o'clock a concert will be given by the junior choirs.

sung by all the choirs under the direction of Garnet Chafee.

The day program on April 18 will be essentially the same as that at Liberty, the addresses coming in the same order, and being by the same speakers, with the concert by the junior choirs at four o'clock.

The evening concert on April 18 will include an organ recital by Van Deaman Thompson, organist of DePauw University, and dean of the Indiana chapter of the American Guild of Organists. The main feature of the evening program will be the concert given by the choir of DePauw University, under the direction of Dean Robert G. McCutchan.

The officers of the music society for the eastern half of the district are L. V. Hegwood, president; O. P. Wamsley, vice president; S. L. Martin, secretary; Mrs. A. L. Riggs, J. M. Larmore and Oscar Jenn, directors. The committee in charge of the arrangements at Shelbyville will consist of E. H. Boldrey, L. C. Murr, M. S. Taylor, Garnet-Chafee and Raymond Wintin, all of Shelbyville.

No fee will be charged for admission to any of these meetings, but an offering will be received each evening to pay the expenses. It is evident that such conferences can not be put on without considerable expense and it is hoped that all will come prepared to contribute liberally as well as willingly.

The choir of the St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church, under the direction of O. P. Wamsley, will take part in the Liberty conference, Mr. Wamsley being vice president of the music society of the eastern half of the district.
